8 More Advance To Bee At Lisbon

Eight spellers from four schools in the Columbiana County system joined the field of 32 contestants which will compete in the county-wide spelling bee Monday night at Lisbon by qualifying in the county schools' spelldown Thursday afternoon at Highlandtown.

Franklin Local captured the top two places in the bee, with three places going to United Local, two to Fairfield - Waterford and one to Southern Local.

The qualifiers in the order they finished:

Jeanne Klemann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Klemann of Hanoverton R. D. 1, an eighth-grader at United Local.

Jackie Jewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jewell of Lisbon R. D. 4, a seventh - grader at United.

Mary Lou Boise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boise of East Palestine R. D. 2, a seventh-grader at Fairfield - Waterford.

Delbert Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams of Wellsville R. D. 1, an eighth - grader at Highlandtown.

Two more appropriate words couldn't have been found to end yesterday's bee.

With the starting field of 16 narrowed to 2, Roberts missed acumination, which means "a tapering point."

Miss Kellison spelled it correctly and then complied with the rules by spelling the next word correctly, which was addendum or "a thing to be added."

The Rev. Frank Hare, pastor of the West Beaver United Presbyterian Church, was the pronouncer. The judges were Mrs. Ray Votaw from the United Local area, Mrs. Wayne Rupert of Fairfield-Waterford district and Mrs. Harold W. Applegate from the Beaver Local district.

Although Beaver Local failed to qualify any pupils for the county-wide bee, two sixth - graders from the public school near Williamsport captured the two top places in the contests for fifth and sixth-graders yesterday morning.

And for the first time in the history of the county bee, a student who needed to spell only one world correctly missed it and lost the spelldown in the fifth - and-sixth - grade competition.

But in her anxiety, she spelled rinse with a "c." Then Jerry came bouncing back and got it right and went on to spell journal to end the contest.

Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Suffolk and Marsha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simplican. Both are from Negley R. D. 1.

Union To Seek Hike In Wages For New Pact

Health And Welfare Plan And Pensions Also Eyed By IBOP

Potters in generalware and chinaware plants will seek a substantial general pay increase, pensions and a health and welfare program in negotiations with manufacturers on new working agreements that will take effect Dec. 1, their international union revealed today.

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters made that announcement as an aftermath of a meeting of its Wage Policy Committee, which adjourned last weekend in Cincinnati after a three-day discussion of demands that will be presented in new contract negotiations.

The IBOP's negotiations will be mainly with the U. S. Potters Association, although some chinaware firms which are not members of the USPA have contracts with the union that expire at the same time.

Sixty-three delegates from 43 local unions helped draft the Wage Policy Committees' proposals, the IBOP said.

The union's present contract with the USPA was signed last May 8, ending a 23-day strike.

It is the third year the Wage Policy Committee drafted proposals for generalware and chinaware workers. Previously, proposals were worked out at annual conventions, based at least in part on resolutions submitted by local unions.

The IBOP constitution revision committee also met with the Executive Board during the wage parley and reported it has prepared a revised constitution to be considered at the annual convention in Seattle in June, the IBOP announced.

Plastic Firm Employes Establish IBOP Local

Employes of a plastics manufacturing concern in Logansport, Ind., have established a local union in the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters after naming the IBOP as bargaining agent in a National Labor Relations Board election.

The workers at Royalton, Inc., will be represented by IBOP Local 311, the international union announced. The new local has named its first officers and is preparing to negotiate its initial contract with management, the IBOP said.

The firm has purchased a building in downtown Weirton for $111,000 for one of its centers.

City To Add 2 Councilmen If Census Reaches 25,000

If official figures from the 1960 census show East Liverpool's population has hit 25,000, the number of councilmen automatically will increase from 7 to 9 and 2 new wards will be established.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, who has been promised an unofficial figure on the population total sometime this weekend, confirmed the data on the increase in Council's size in a conversation Thursday afternoon with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper.

In Ohio, a community attains city status when its population reaches 5,000. From that point, there is no change so long as the population does not exceed 24,999. Cities in that bracket, as East Liverpool is now, are entitled to elect four ward councilmen and three councilmen-at-large.

East Liverpool's official population for the last 10 years has been 24,217—the figure established in the 1950 census.

When a city's population gains 20,000 in addition to the original 5,000, it is entitled to elect 2 more councilmen by wards, giving it a total of 9, the state code provides.

A city's new population figure becomes official when the secretary of state issues a proclamation listing the figure. Council has 90 days from that date to establish the new wards, the law provides. If it does not act within that period—and if the Council president makes an official request—the job of di-

Census Enumerator Cites Police Courtesy

Mrs. Gail A. Richmond, 1075 Pennsylvania Ave., a census enumerator, wrote a "thank you" note today to Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi for the aid she received from police in locating obscure streets and boundary lines in the area in which she made the population count.

Explaining she telephoned police several times for aid, Mrs. Richmond said she is "grateful for the most courteous and informative answers to all my questions."

Youthful Mob Stages Parade Against Rhee

Smashes Windows, Demands That Vice President Get Out

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Ten thousand teen-age students paraded all day through the port of Inchon today in the biggest antigovernment demonstration since the "bloody Tuesday" riots.

The youthful mob in the port city 30 miles west of Seoul smashed four windows in the headquarters of Rhee's Liberal party and chanted demands for the resignation of Vice President-elect Lee Ki-Poong, shouting that his election with Rhee on March 15 was crooked.

Unlike the rioting Tuesday in Seoul and other major cities, there was no bloodshed. The police — already severely criticized for killing protest marchers Tuesday—fired three blank shells over the Inchon demonstrators but otherwise made no attempt to disperse them.

The police even provided three water wagons for the students.

It was the third consecutive day of antigovernment demonstrations in Inchon. The port is not one of the five Korean cities put under martial law Tuesday, when at least 125 persons were killed in Seoul and other centers in the near-revolt against the government.

The general public was quiet in Seoul, though there were rumors that university students planned another big protest Saturday.

But in Seoul opponents of Rhee in the National Assembly scuffled for five minutes in the assembly chamber with deputies from the president's Liberal party.

The fight started when Defense Minister Kim Chung-Yul, explaining why the government imposed martial law during the rioting Tuesday, said:

"The students resorted to indescribably violence, murdered police, set fire to police stations and other government buildings."

"Tell the truth! Retract your statement!" shouted Chang Taek-Sang, an Independent.

Lee Pil-Ho of the opposition Democratic party rushed to the rostrum and shoved Kim. Others dashed up, trying to calm Lee. Shouting and confusion followed. A recess was called and order was restored.

The assembly, in which the Liberals hold 151 of the 231 seats, formed a 20-man committee to investigate the national crisis.

Tag Day Set Saturday By Counseling Center

A Tag Day will be held by the Child Counseling Center Saturday from 8 a. m. until 1:30 p. m.

Members of the high school Key Club will be in charge of the solicitation in the business district. Rowland Kaufman, a director of the center, is fund campaign chairman.

The center, a non-profit organization, has its offices in the Mary Patterson Memorial. Up to this time operating funds have come from PTAs, civic groups and individuals in the district.

Judge Louis Tobin, president of the Board of Directors, explained "that the more serious aspects of the counseling problems necessitated the tag day as an emergency measure". He pointed out that there have been 150 counselings between Oct. 1, 1959, and April 14, with 81 tests.

French Chief Arrives

Ike, De Gaulle Set To Launch Strategy Meetings In Capital

Washington Gives Visitor Big Welcome

Expected To Make Bid For Stronger Voice At Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle flew into Washington today to receive a warm welcome from President Eisenhower, and open four days of summit strategy talks.

He is expected to make a new bid for a bigger French voice in Allied decisions on global strategy in the conflict with Soviet communism, but not to press the point particularly in his talks with the President.

Eisenhower personally headed the welcoming party which waited in a warm sun at National Airport as De Gaulle's special Air France flight from Toronto, Canada, came in.

De Gaulle, whose wife is accompanying him on this American visit, spent four days in Canada. After a stay here, they will visit New York, San Francisco and New Orleans before leaving the country.

Eisenhower and De Gaulle had met most recently last December when Eisenhower visited Paris for a conference of Western leaders. It was at that time that the Western chiefs decided to meet with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris this spring.

The East-West summit session will begin in the French capital May 16.

This visit is De Gaulle's first to Washington in 15 years.

The 69-year-old French general and political leader was greeted as he stepped from the plane with a display of full military honors rendered by units of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Within a few minutes after his plane stopped cannons began booming out a 21-gun salute and a military band sounded four ruffles and flourishes, followed by the playing of "The Marseilles" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

From the airport, De Gaulle's route across the Potomac River and into Washington was by way of 14th St. and New York Ave. Along the flag-decked parade course, thousands of sightseers, citizens and government employes gathered to see the famous French leader make his ceremonial trip into the city with Eisenhower.

$1½ Billion Slash Sought By Aid Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid critics set out today to whittle a billion and a half dollars from the $4,038,500,000 program approved Thursday by the House.

Chairman Otto E. Passman (D-La) of the key appropriations subcommittee handling actual funds for the program said "I doubt very much whether the committee in its wisdom will approve more than 2½ billion."

The bill passed Thursday 243-130 on a roll-call vote sets a maximum on spending and lays down policy guidelines. Actual funds are voted separately.

The authorization bill made relatively minor cuts in President Eisenhower's recommendations — reductions totaling 136½ million dollars.

The House customarily votes less than the maximum authorized for foreign aid, the Senate sets a higher figure, the difference then is split in conference.

The House tightened provisions to assure full information to Congress on the program and to guard against administrators committing U. S. funds in advance.

Guards Negroes Right To Vote

House-Passed Rights Bill Awaits Signature By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Eisenhower's signature —certain to be forthcoming—now is required to put into force a new law empowering federal court referees to help Negroes obtain the right to vote.

The House completed legislative action on the 1960 civil rights bill Thursday with a 288-95 roll call vote accepting Senate amendments to the measure the House had passed earlier.

If he wants to take that long, the President has 10 days in which to act, but the administration's mind obviously is already made up.

That was underscored by a statement prepared by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers in advance of final passage, and released when the House acted.

Rogers promised vigorous enforcement action where needed.

"Its impact, once the expected legal challenges have been disposed of in the normal judicial process, will be substantial, I believe, both in establishing the right to vote of those who have been discriminated against on account of race or color, and by deterring future discriminations by persons acting under color of state law," Rogers said of the bill.

It authorizes federal courts and voting referees appointed by those courts to register Negroes to vote in areas where the courts find a pattern of discrimination against them.

Other sections of the bill:

Make it a federal crime to obstruct execution of any federal court order by force or violence. As originally proposed that section would have applied only in school desegregation cases such as those at Little Rock, Ark. as revised, it applies, over union objections, in such matters as labor cases.

Make a federal crime of flight across state lines to avoid prosecution for bombing any building or structure. Growing out of the bombing of some integrated Southern schools, that section in its first form would have applied only in church or school bombings.

Require state and local election officials to preserve their records for 22 months and keep them available to federal inspectors.

Empower the federal government to provide schooling for children of servicemen where schools in the vicinity of military posts are closed in integration disputes.

The bill as passed goes well beyond what Southern opponents were really willing to take. But it stops far short of what the principle civil rights advocates tried to get.

Presidential Hopefuls Hit Religion Issue

Get Behind Kennedy In Effort To Wipe It From Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Other presidential hopefuls rallied today behind the effort of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to erase the religious issue from the political campaign.

But despite their feeling that where a man goes to church should have nothing to do with his fitness for the presidency, there remained evidence that an undetermined number of voters will continue to consider it pertinent.

Kennedy, in fact, may have hardened the issue—instead of eliminating it—by his vigorously worded speech Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE).

While he discounted any likelihood of a Catholic bolt in November if he is denied the presidential nomination, Kennedy made it difficult for the Democrats to compromise in any way with him.

Kennedy termed "highly distasteful" any suggestion that he withdraw to avoid controversy and then accept the vice presidential nomination "to placate the so-called Catholic vote." Such a suggestion, he added, "assumes that Catholics are a pawn on the political chessboard, moved hither and yon."

Kennedy's best chance of proving his Catholicism won't be held against him by the voters lies in the May 10 West Virginia primary.

Porter's Brick Plants In Area Halt Production

Employes of four H. K. Porter Co., Inc., brick producing plants in the area are idle today after being notified Thursday afternoon that production was halting, apparently for lack of orders.

The McLain Works, Refractories Division, and the Champion works, both in Wellsville, and the New Salisbury and Irondale plants were shut down.

The plants make fire brick for steel mill ladles and furnaces and several district steel mills have curtailed production.

John Marsh of the company's public relations department in the Pittsburgh offices said the situation is "only temporary."

Fight Planned By Democrats Over Report

Democratic leaders in Columbiana County today indicated they will press plans to have the county's 1959 financial report published despite the refusal of Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp to certify the report which was submitted by County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

Judge Sharp earlier this week said he would not approve the 56-page form statement because of failure to itemize some receipts and expenditures.

Auditor Bell said today he considers the report this year a "dropped subject" as far as his office is concerned. He said the judge's ruling will stand.

Bell added he hopes to report to the auditors of the state the discrepancy in state regulations concerning the requirements for the report — one section calling for itemized statements and another providing for the judge to seek changes.

Bell said he will submit a report again next year, hoping in the

3-Car Wreck Injures Trio

Lisbon Man And 2 From Salem Hurt

A Lisbon man and two Salem residents were injured in a multiple car crash on Route 45 about 2 miles south of Salem Thursday night at 11:45, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Margaret Hall, 35, of Salem veered into an approaching auto operated by Theodore Pekarchick, 27, of 115 Pritchard Ave., Lisbon.

A few minutes later a car driven by Linton Hacker, 33, of Salem crashed into Pekarchick's auto, officers said. Hacker suffered cuts and bruises and was taken, with the other two drivers, to Salem City Hospital.

The woman was charged with reckless operation and Hacker was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

William Plunkett, 47, of West Point was cited for unsafe operation after his car swerved off the Old Steubenville Rd. and overturned yesterday afternoon at 4:20 about 2 miles north of Route 39.

Poindexter's Life Spared By Governor

Death Sentence Is Commuted To Life In Prison By DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The life of Frank Poindexter of Cincinnati was spared today by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle who commuted his first-degree murder sentence to life in prison. Poindexter was to have been electrocuted tonight.

DiSalle's action made Poindexter's penalty equal to that of his accomplice, Hollis Leigh, also of Cincinnati.

Leigh pleaded guilty to a charge of first-degree murder and received a life sentence. Poindexter stood trial in the same three-judge court, but received the death penalty.

"In view of the disparity in the punishment meted out to two men that I feel in the eyes of society and the concept of our law are both equally guilty, I have no alternative but to commute the sentence of Frank Poindexter from death to life imprisonment," the governor said.

"This is in keeping with the equity involved. I feel that it better serves the objectives of justice by not creating a revulsion in the hearts and minds of responsible citizens who are concerned with the principle of equality before the law.

"This is not intended in any way to reflect upon the prosecuting attorney, the judges, all of whom serve a particular function in the administration of the law, but it is only to meet the demands of conscience as I recognize them in meeting my responsibility under the Constitution of the State of Ohio."

Air Force Fires Titan Over 5,000-Mile Range

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force has successfully fired its Titan missile over a 5,000-mile course for the third time and now will concentrate on improving the range, reliability and accuracy of this intercontinental range weapon.

One of the 98-foot missiles covered the long distance Thursday, dumping its tactical type nose cone in the intended impact area off the South Atlantic island of Ascension, according to an Air Force announcement.

The Titan flew 5,000 miles on two previous flights, on Feb. 24 and March 22.

Union To Seek Hike In Wages For New Pact

Health And Welfare Plan And Pensions Also Eyed By IBOP

Potters in generalware and chinaware plants will seek a substantial general pay increase, pensions and a health and welfare program in negotiations with manufacturers on new working agreements that will take effect Dec. 1, their international union revealed today.

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters made that announcement as an aftermath of a meeting of its Wage Policy Committee, which adjourned last weekend in Cincinnati after a three-day discussion of demands that will be presented in new contract negotiations.

The IBOP's negotiations will be mainly with the U. S. Potters Association, although some chinaware firms which are not members of the USPA have contracts with the union that expire at the same time.

Sixty-three delegates from 43 local unions helped draft the Wage Policy Committees' proposals, the IBOP said.

The union's present contract with the USPA was signed last May 8, ending a 23-day strike.

It is the third year the Wage Policy Committee drafted proposals for generalware and chinaware workers. Previously, proposals were worked out at annual conventions, based at least in part on resolutions submitted by local unions.

The East-West summit session will begin in the French capital May 16.

This visit is De Gaulle's first to Washington in 15 years.

The 69-year-old French general and political leader was greeted as he stepped from the plane with a display of full military honors rendered by units of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Within a few minutes after his plane stopped cannons began booming out a 21-gun salute and a military band sounded four ruffles and flourishes, followed by the playing of "The Marseilles" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

From the airport, De Gaulle's route across the Potomac River and into Washington was by way of 14th St. and New York Ave. Along the flag-decked parade course, thousands of sightseers, citizens and government employes gathered to see the famous French leader make his ceremonial trip into the city with Eisenhower.

$1½ Billion Slash Sought By Aid Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid critics set out today to whittle a billion and a half dollars from the $4,038,500,000 program approved Thursday by the House.

Chairman Otto E. Passman (D-La) of the key appropriations subcommittee handling actual funds for the program said "I doubt very much whether the committee in its wisdom will approve more than 2½ billion."

The bill passed Thursday 243-130 on a roll-call vote sets a maximum on spending and lays down policy guidelines. Actual funds are voted separately.

The authorization bill made relatively minor cuts in President Eisenhower's recommendations — reductions totaling 136½ million dollars.

The House customarily votes less than the maximum authorized for foreign aid, the Senate sets a higher figure, the difference then is split in conference.

The House tightened provisions to assure full information to Congress on the program and to guard against administrators committing U. S. funds in advance.

Guards Negroes Right To Vote

House-Passed Rights Bill Awaits Signature By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only President Eisenhower's signature —certain to be forthcoming—now is required to put into force a new law empowering federal court referees to help Negroes obtain the right to vote.

The House completed legislative action on the 1960 civil rights bill Thursday with a 288-95 roll call vote accepting Senate amendments to the measure the House had passed earlier.

If he wants to take that long, the President has 10 days in which to act, but the administration's mind obviously is already made up.

That was underscored by a statement prepared by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers in advance of final passage, and released when the House acted.

Rogers promised vigorous enforcement action where needed.

"Its impact, once the expected legal challenges have been disposed of in the normal judicial process, will be substantial, I believe, both in establishing the right to vote of those who have been discriminated against on account of race or color, and by deterring future discriminations by persons acting under color of state law," Rogers said of the bill.

It authorizes federal courts and voting referees appointed by those courts to register Negroes to vote in areas where the courts find a pattern of discrimination against them.

Other sections of the bill:

Make it a federal crime to obstruct execution of any federal court order by force or violence. As originally proposed that section would have applied only in school desegregation cases such as those at Little Rock, Ark. as revised, it applies, over union objections, in such matters as labor cases.

Make a federal crime of flight across state lines to avoid prosecution for bombing any building or structure. Growing out of the bombing of some integrated Southern schools, that section in its first form would have applied only in church or school bombings.

Require state and local election officials to preserve their records for 22 months and keep them available to federal inspectors.

Empower the federal government to provide schooling for children of servicemen where schools in the vicinity of military posts are closed in integration disputes.

The bill as passed goes well beyond what Southern opponents were really willing to take. But it stops far short of what the principle civil rights advocates tried to get.

Presidential Hopefuls Hit Religion Issue

Get Behind Kennedy In Effort To Wipe It From Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Other presidential hopefuls rallied today behind the effort of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) to erase the religious issue from the political campaign.

But despite their feeling that where a man goes to church should have nothing to do with his fitness for the presidency, there remained evidence that an undetermined number of voters will continue to consider it pertinent.

Kennedy, in fact, may have hardened the issue—instead of eliminating it—by his vigorously worded speech Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE).

While he discounted any likelihood of a Catholic bolt in November if he is denied the presidential nomination, Kennedy made it difficult for the Democrats to compromise in any way with him.

Kennedy termed "highly distasteful" any suggestion that he withdraw to avoid controversy and then accept the vice presidential nomination "to placate the so-called Catholic vote." Such a suggestion, he added, "assumes that Catholics are a pawn on the political chessboard, moved hither and yon."

Kennedy's best chance of proving his Catholicism won't be held against him by the voters lies in the May 10 West Virginia primary.

Porter's Brick Plants In Area Halt Production

Employes of four H. K. Porter Co., Inc., brick producing plants in the area are idle today after being notified Thursday afternoon that production was halting, apparently for lack of orders.

The McLain Works, Refractories Division, and the Champion works, both in Wellsville, and the New Salisbury and Irondale plants were shut down.

The plants make fire brick for steel mill ladles and furnaces and several district steel mills have curtailed production.

John Marsh of the company's public relations department in the Pittsburgh offices said the situation is "only temporary."

Fight Planned By Democrats Over Report

Democratic leaders in Columbiana County today indicated they will press plans to have the county's 1959 financial report published despite the refusal of Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp to certify the report which was submitted by County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

Judge Sharp earlier this week said he would not approve the 56-page form statement because of failure to itemize some receipts and expenditures.

Auditor Bell said today he considers the report this year a "dropped subject" as far as his office is concerned. He said the judge's ruling will stand.

Bell added he hopes to report to the auditors of the state the discrepancy in state regulations concerning the requirements for the report — one section calling for itemized statements and another providing for the judge to seek changes.

Bell said he will submit a report again next year, hoping in the

Lisbon Man And 2 From Salem Hurt

A Lisbon man and two Salem residents were injured in a multiple car crash on Route 45 about 2 miles south of Salem Thursday night at 11:45, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Margaret Hall, 35, of Salem veered into an approaching auto operated by Theodore Pekarchick, 27, of 115 Pritchard Ave., Lisbon.

A few minutes later a car driven by Linton Hacker, 33, of Salem crashed into Pekarchick's auto, officers said. Hacker suffered cuts and bruises and was taken, with the other two drivers, to Salem City Hospital.

The woman was charged with reckless operation and Hacker was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

William Plunkett, 47, of West Point was cited for unsafe operation after his car swerved off the Old Steubenville Rd. and overturned yesterday afternoon at 4:20 about 2 miles north of Route 39.

Poindexter's Life Spared By Governor

Death Sentence Is Commuted To Life In Prison By DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The life of Frank Poindexter of Cincinnati was spared today by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle who commuted his first-degree murder sentence to life in prison. Poindexter was to have been electrocuted tonight.

DiSalle's action made Poindexter's penalty equal to that of his accomplice, Hollis Leigh, also of Cincinnati.

Leigh pleaded guilty to a charge of first-degree murder and received a life sentence. Poindexter stood trial in the same three-judge court, but received the death penalty.

"In view of the disparity in the punishment meted out to two men that I feel in the eyes of society and the concept of our law are both equally guilty, I have no alternative but to commute the sentence of Frank Poindexter from death to life imprisonment," the governor said.

"This is in keeping with the equity involved. I feel that it better serves the objectives of justice by not creating a revulsion in the hearts and minds of responsible citizens who are concerned with the principle of equality before the law.

"This is not intended in any way to reflect upon the prosecuting attorney, the judges, all of whom serve a particular function in the administration of the law, but it is only to meet the demands of conscience as I recognize them in meeting my responsibility under the Constitution of the State of Ohio."

Air Force Fires Titan Over 5,000-Mile Range

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force has successfully fired its Titan missile over a 5,000-mile course for the third time and now will concentrate on improving the range, reliability and accuracy of this intercontinental range weapon.

One of the 98-foot missiles covered the long distance Thursday, dumping its tactical type nose cone in the intended impact area off the South Atlantic island of Ascension, according to an Air Force announcement.

The Titan flew 5,000 miles on two previous flights, on Feb. 24 and March 22.

Midland Chamber Will Participate In Sign Project

The Board of Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon approved the purchase of signs for its participation in the project of erecting two large welcoming signs at the east and west ends of the borough.

The signs, to be bought by Ed Robbins, secretary, were approved on a motion of Anthony Martell. The board met at the Esquire Bar and William Robertson, vice president, presided in the absence of Dr. Thomas Boyd, president.

Vic George, public relations chairman, whose committee is working with the Crucible Steel Co. to erect the signs, said the committee must now meet with George M. Burrier, works manager. He said signs may be up by July 4th.

Directors approved a letter to the Board of Education, asking its help since numerous campaigns to raise funds for school - connected events are hurting some businessmen. A motion for the letter was made by Paul McGeehan.

Robertson reported on the July 4th Committee meeting he attended April 6 and said some 1,000 tickets to raise funds were given him for distribution by the Chamber. The board authorized that Boyd appoint a committee for the distribution.

Use of the Chamber's public address system by the Knights of Columbus, Council 2005, for Monday evening was approved, along with a request for its use by the Lions Club for a broom sale May 3-4.

Robbins reported on membership. Next meeting will be May 19.

Victims Of Blizzard

Bodies Of Two Students Found On Colorado Peak

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—The bodies of two young students, one going to the aid of the other, were found on 14,255-foot Longs Peak late Thursday.

Prince Willmon, 23, of Fort Smith, Ark., and David L. Jones, 19, of Webster Groves, Mo., apparently were the victims of a spring blizzard which trapped them and a girl companion on their mountain outing.

Jane Bendixen, 19, of Davenport, Iowa, was the lone survivor. She staggered to shelter late Wednesday, dazed and frostbitten.

Rescue crews came upon the bodies of the two youths within a half mile of each other at 13,000 feet on the southwest slope of the peak in Rocky Mountain National Park. They remained with them overnight.

A helicopter from Lowry Air Force Base at Denver was scheduled to make an attempt to reach the bodies today.

The three and a fourth companion, James A. Creig, 21, of Glenview, Ill., began their outing Monday. Greig became ill the next day, however, and turned back.

Miss Bendixen, taken to a hospital at Boulder, said the three had climbed almost to the summit on Tuesday when the blizzard hit them. She and Willmon were badly frostbitten.

Miss Bendixen and Jones left Willmon in an ice cave for shelter on Wednesday and began a perilous descent over snow and ice-covered trails to seek help.

Miss Bendixen said she fell down a rocky cliff a short time after she passed Jones. She was knocked unconscious.

When she recovered, she yelled for Jones but got no response. She finally made her way to a mountain home at Allenspark, 12 miles south of here, and called authorities.

Radio reports from the rescue groups indicated Willmon died of exposure. Jones presumably died in a fall—possibly down the same cliff where Miss Bendixen herself was knocked out.

All three were experienced climbers. Miss Bendixen said she had climbed Longs Peak three times before.

Park rangers said trails on the peak are clearly marked "closed" at this time of year. Greig said he and his three companions failed to see the signs, however.

Midland Chamber Will Participate In Sign Project

The Board of Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon approved the purchase of signs for its participation in the project of erecting two large welcoming signs at the east and west ends of the borough.

The signs, to be bought by Ed Robbins, secretary, were approved on a motion of Anthony Martell. The board met at the Esquire Bar and William Robertson, vice president, presided in the absence of Dr. Thomas Boyd, president.

Vic George, public relations chairman, whose committee is working with the Crucible Steel Co. to erect the signs, said the committee must now meet with George M. Burrier, works manager. He said signs may be up by July 4th.

Directors approved a letter to the Board of Education, asking its help since numerous campaigns to raise funds for school - connected events are hurting some businessmen. A motion for the letter was made by Paul McGeehan.

Robertson reported on the July 4th Committee meeting he attended April 6 and said some 1,000 tickets to raise funds were given him for distribution by the Chamber. The board authorized that Boyd appoint a committee for the distribution.

Use of the Chamber's public address system by the Knights of Columbus, Council 2005, for Monday evening was approved, along with a request for its use by the Lions Club for a broom sale May 3-4.

Robbins reported on membership. Next meeting will be May 19.

Victims Of Blizzard

Bodies Of Two Students Found On Colorado Peak

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—The bodies of two young students, one going to the aid of the other, were found on 14,255-foot Longs Peak late Thursday.

Prince Willmon, 23, of Fort Smith, Ark., and David L. Jones, 19, of Webster Groves, Mo., apparently were the victims of a spring blizzard which trapped them and a girl companion on their mountain outing.

Jane Bendixen, 19, of Davenport, Iowa, was the lone survivor. She staggered to shelter late Wednesday, dazed and frostbitten.

Rescue crews came upon the bodies of the two youths within a half mile of each other at 13,000 feet on the southwest slope of the peak in Rocky Mountain National Park. They remained with them overnight.

A helicopter from Lowry Air Force Base at Denver was scheduled to make an attempt to reach the bodies today.

The three and a fourth companion, James A. Creig, 21, of Glenview, Ill., began their outing Monday. Greig became ill the next day, however, and turned back.

Miss Bendixen, taken to a hospital at Boulder, said the three had climbed almost to the summit on Tuesday when the blizzard hit them. She and Willmon were badly frostbitten.

Miss Bendixen and Jones left Willmon in an ice cave for shelter on Wednesday and began a perilous descent over snow and ice-covered trails to seek help.

Miss Bendixen said she fell down a rocky cliff a short time after she passed Jones. She was knocked unconscious.

When she recovered, she yelled for Jones but got no response. She finally made her way to a mountain home at Allenspark, 12 miles south of here, and called authorities.

Radio reports from the rescue groups indicated Willmon died of exposure. Jones presumably died in a fall—possibly down the same cliff where Miss Bendixen herself was knocked out.

All three were experienced climbers. Miss Bendixen said she had climbed Longs Peak three times before.

Park rangers said trails on the peak are clearly marked "closed" at this time of year. Greig said he and his three companions failed to see the signs, however.

DeGaulle's Mission In Washington

There are two schools of thought on what French President De Gaulle hopes to accomplish in his conversations with United States officials during his eight-day state visit.

One holds that he is seeking concessions, especially equal sharing with Great Britain of American knowledge and materials for atomic weapons.

The other school believes concession-seeking is too base for President De Gaulle's sense of French dignity, so he will take advantage of his visit to reassert his independence of the other allies.

This, the second school contends, is based on the French leader's idea that he can get more from his allies with a stand-offish attitude than he can with a begging attitude.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that the foremost spokesman for the second school of thought is a leading French editor, who ought to know more about his own president than his foreign counterparts. Besides, history supports the French editor.

Since he jumped into the world spotlight as the self-appointed leader of the Free French after the fall of France in World War II, Charles de Gaulle has consistently refused to have a part in concessions, either giving them or asking them. Britain's Winston Churchill once said the heaviest burden he had to bear in the great war was "the cross of Lorraine."

Back in his homeland after the war, Gen. De Gaulle still stuck to the uncompromising attitude of his unfailing self-confidence. When the French wanted his leadership on his own terms, they had it. When they did not, he retired to his country place. When they decided again they need his leadership on any terms, they got it — on his terms.

If this is the demand President De Gaulle makes of France, which he dearly loves, it is the demand he can be expected to make of other nations, toward whom he is comparatively indifferent.

THUS, WHEN he says France will not be a party to a nuclear test ban that does not provide for the destruction of nuclear weapons in existence, he is backed up by the recollection that France ignored Allied pleadings and proceeded to join the atomic club on its own.

When he says he will withhold approval of NATO strategic air planning and use of atomic bombs unless France becomes a member of the alliance's directorate, he can be taken at his word.

This does not mean President De Gaulle and the other western leaders cannot work together. His sentiments lie with the West. His rigid attitude is not intended so much as a blockade against western solidarity as a constant reminder that he sees France as a proud, sovereign nation worthy of respect in the eyes of the world.

And today, the way Charles de Gaulle sees France is the way France is, for De Gaulle is France.

To The Byways

A Chester girl was injured Wednesday afternoon when a bicycle she and another girl were riding struck a parked car.

Bicycle accidents, unfortunately, are one of the unwelcome phases of good weather.

Bicycling is good exercise and an enjoyable sport. The thing that the cyclist must remember, however, is that the odds are greatly in favor of the other fellow — the driver in the automobile. Nothing has changed since last year. An auto is still a heavier and still a more deadly weapon than a bicycle.

The only logical thing for a cyclist to do is beat a hasty retreat to safer territory. A super highway and a well-surfaced road are more inviting, but at the same time are more dangerous.

For safety's sake, the cyclist should take to the byways. The exercise and the enjoyment will still be there.

Tape Traps Truman In Trite Trick

Former Republican Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson was the man whose rash statements made the phrase "foot-in-mouth disease" famous, but former Democratic President Harry S. Truman certainly qualifies as a worthy fellow-sufferer of the ailment.

Mr. Truman has been caught up in his charge that he was misquoted concerning charges that the Communists engineered the sit-in strikes of Negro students against segregation at southern lunch counters.

Perhaps his real trouble is that he has not caught up with the modern electronics age. He is still relying on the old-time politician's dodge of passing the buck to the reporters who tried to do an accurate job.

Few reporters are experts at shorthand and most of them — even the most experienced —are aware of the occasional fallibility of notes scribbled at hectic pace during the orations of impassioned politicians.

Thus, when Mr. Truman reverted to the "misquoted" alibi in the past, as he has on several occasions, the luckless reporters could only protest faith in their own efforts at accuracy without irrefutable evidence to back them up.

This time, however, the newsmen have the drop on Mr. Truman. Their reports were based on remarks made during a television interview, all of which was taped. When the tape was reviewed, there was Mr. Truman, plain as could be, saying what the reporters said he said, plain as could be.

The upshot of this experience may be that Mr. Truman will in the future avoid making embarrassing statements. But that is doubtful; it is more likely he will avoid television.

The accuracy of its record is too hauntingly exact to fit into the "give 'em hell" pattern of Harry Truman. It protects the reporter from being the fall guy.

With Due Respect To Missileers

One of the remarkable things about military preparations is the way strategy is shaped by unproved and unprovable suppositions.

It isn't popular to remind militarists that they said World War II would be fought with gas and, to that end, had outfitted every man, woman, child and dog with gas masks.

It isn't popular for the same reason to remind them that the Korean War was to be fought with tanks and airplanes, to hear them tell it at the beginning. Instead, it was fought by foot soldiers slogging through the misery that has been the infantry's trademark since Hannibal's spearmen trudged over the Alps in elephant tracks.

The current supposition is that the next war will be fought with missiles and that the first onslaught will be a barrage of Russian missiles laid down on every Strategic Air Command base maintained by the United States. Consequently, it is argued by the planners that all SAC planes would be destroyed if caught on the ground and therefore some should be in the air all the time and others should be ready to fly on a few minutes' notice. This should be continued, it is argued, until the United States has as many missiles as Russia has, whereupon it can junk all its planes.

With due respect for the accuracy of the missileers when they finally polish their art, here is a hunch no air base could be hit by an intercontinental ballistic missle other than by accident. As to the supposition that the enemy in another war would be Russia and that war would be fought between missileers, that is as unproved and unprovable as the assumption that intercontinental missiles ever will be accurate.

In the next war the United States and Russia could be allies again, as they unexpectedly were in the latest one, and that the foe might not have a missile he could call his own.

Prettied Up!

Seamen Wage Fight Over Freedoms

By Victor Riesel

I've been alongside big, blondish, opened-collared Paul Hall in several small wars. So it was no surprise that the president of the Seafarers International Union had decided to take on the Arab League in what may become a mighty naval engagement keeping scores of ships from going down to the sea from the shores of Tripoli to the big U.S. ports. What angered Paul Hall is that the United Arab Republic had begun imprisoning American sailors without reason — and that the U.S. State Department didn't seem to take this as a personal insult to a country or flag.

Victor Riesel

There is, for bitter example, the case of the American freighter Westport. Last fall it pulled into the sand-blown port of Suez at the southern end of the Canal.

American seafarers were held aboard ship as prisoners in everything but name only. Their seamen's papers were impounded by Prime Minister Nasser's police. They were restricted to their ship in violation of international law. They were not permitted to communicate with anyone except through the Egyptian government.

ONE NIGHT the crew hit on the stratagem of calling a mock fire drill. They sounded the alarm. They rowed to another freighter, the Steel Voyager, anchored nearby. It was also manned by members of the Seafarers. No reason was given for the freedom of the Steel Voyager and the insulting imprisonment of the Westport. Thus word of the Westport's crew's retention was passed on home. They were soon released.

Then there was the American freighter Valiant Faith. It pulled into Port Said on Feb. 11. Nine of the seafarers were denied shore leave and held aboard the imprisoned ship for 28 days.

Finally American authorities forced their release. Two months later, on April 11, they made their home port of New York aboard the U.S. Navy Ship Geiger.

Hall points to these cases as part of "the abuse and villification of American seamen in Egyptian ports in the same part of the world where the Tripoli pirates once harassed us. We're not going to take it this time any more than American seafarers did then," Hall said.

THIS IS PART of the UAR cold war in which the Nasser government refuses to permit any ship that ever touched in at an Israeli port to put in at a UAR harbor. It makes no difference to Nasser if the American ship docked at Elath or Haifa for water, repairs, fuel, to get medical aid for a sick crew member, or moved cargo in and out years ago.

Hall, stating that no one will decide that freedom of the seas is verboten, ordered the picketing of ship Cleopatra at its New York harbor berth. This action followed Hall's letter to President Eisenhower. The President asked the State Department to reply. It did. It said that it was not U.S. policy to support blacklisting of U.S. ships by any power.

But Paul Hall and his colleagues discovered that the U.S. Department of Agriculture discriminates against ships which have carried cargo to Israel. This is called a charter clause.

It states that American freighters which have traded with Israel cannot carry American government surplus farm cargoes to the Middle East. These cargoes are paid for by the American public. They are sent as gifts to the working people of the Arab lands.

WHEN ONE OF HALL'S staff queried the Agricultural Department, a government spokesman said it was of "no concern" to the department that American ships were being barred.

This reply came through recently. Hall then lined up his pickets. The Arabs plan to counter-picket our ships. Apparently they do not intend to permit the United States freedom of the seas. We've fought bigger sea battles. But none over a greater issue.

Politics A La New York

By Raymond Moley

In what follows I am referring to that part of Greater New York City which is commonly known as Manhattan Island and is officially New York County. Since two years after the inauguration of President Washington, it has been the jealously guarded hunting ground of Tammany Hall.

Each of the other four counties in Greater New York has its own Democratic organization. In 1959 New York County fell in population below Kings (Brooklyn), and Queens. But the Tammany head is still powerful in city affairs, and Mayor Wagner is a native of the island.

To some degree, the political conditions which I shall describe are the same in the Bronx and, to a somewhat lesser degree, in Kings. Only in Queens and Richmond (Staten Island) are there real two-party systems.

A feeble Republican organization exists in Manhattan and duly elects official party leaders prescribed by law for any party — a county committee, assembly district leaders and co-leaders (mostly women), and certain formal officers who serve under a county leader elected by the assembly leaders.

SEVERAL YEARS of rather intimate association with politics in the county have taught me what happens to a minority party and how it manages to live at all. Broadly speaking, it lives because it is to the interest of Tammany to keep it alive.

Why? Because if there were no Republican organization and thus no campaigns each year against an opposition party, Tammany would be riven by internal feuds and factions. It has some of that now in the shape of a group headed by ex-Senator and ex-Governor Herbert Lehman and Mrs. Roosevelt, who want to unseat Carmine de Sapio as leader.

There is also a splinter Liberal Party which needs appeasing. But with a rallying cry against really harmless Republicans, some sort of unity and discipline can be managed. This year Tammany can be rallied for some Democratic presidential candidate. Next year, against a hopeless Republican candidate for mayor.

How is the Republican Party kept in line? In the first place, there is the exceedingly unreliable Republican Party membership. There are plenty of potential Republicans in New York County, but many of them have voting residences in New Jersey, Connecticut, or Long Island. They work and live during the week in town but vote and, what is most important, pay less in taxes out of town.

Those who live in city apartments have been exceedingly mobile in recent years because of the appearance of immense new apartment buildings. Neighbors know little of each other. There is no community unity. Many people of substance maintain a nominal Democratic registration becuase it is good for their businesses. To mobilize these would be a Herculean task.

Tammany allows the Republicans to have one of the six congressmen in the county. Republicans have 2 of the 16 state Assembly seats. Only one member of the City Council is a Republican, and he is more radical than his Democratic colleagues. These legislators have only nominal opposition and are not disposed to upset the balance that keeps their jobs.

Tammany lets the Republican Party have a slice of patronage in the form of occasional receiverships, some business from real estate, insurance, banking, and other types of private enterprise closely intertwined with political favor.

The only real party patronage a Republican district leader has, aside from the foregoing, are the temporary Christmas post office jobs which are tossed to election district (precinct) captains or their friends.

If a few idealistic people decide to energize themselves and seek to elect a congressman or a state assemblyman, the Republican district leaders put up a bristling front of mutual jealousies plus general indifference. Idealism cannot live in such a climate. That has happened within the month in one congressional district.

Strange Precedent

By David Lawrence

U.S. Stand On Korea Seen Awkward Position

A real crisis is developing in Korea. It is more serious than anything that has happened since the Korean War ended seven years ago. It could give the Communists the opportunity they have long sought — to involve the United States in a serious quarrel with its own allies in the Far East. What the Department of State has done in openly reprimanding the government of President Rhee is a bold step. It could prove disastrous for it establishes a precedent that will plague the diplomacy of the United States for years to come.

David Lawrence

For the Department of State has undertaken to pass judgment on the activities of the incumbent party in a national presidential election in a country with which this government is at peace.

Was the election of Rhee "rigged?" His only opposition candidate died while in Washington. The vice presidential contest was bitterly fought but the Rhee party elected its candidate. Charges have been made that many illegalities occurred and that the government supporters actually produced ballots that were not marked by the voters themselves.

EVEN IF THE ACCURACY of these charges were conceded, does this mean that the U.S. government has set itself up as the judge of elections inside other countries? If so, there are plenty of elections in Latin American that will be brought to the attention of officials of the Department of State by defeated parties in years to come.

Couldn't the American government have expressed its displeasure privately and called for a "redress of grievances" by plain-spoken words in the course of diplomatic conversations through the respective ambassadors here or in Seoul, Korea?

The answer given is that the United States has tried this very tactic for several months but that its efforts were fruitless. The wide attention attracted throughout the world by the reported irregularities in the Korean elections finally convinced the Department of State that it had to do something publicly.

In the Far East, however, this will be construed as pulling the rug from beneath the Rhee government. The Washington Evening Star in an editorial made this comment:

"If the State Department is trying to bring down the government of Syngman Rhee in its hour of crisis, the lecture which Mr. Herter has addressed to the South Korean ambassador makes a certain amount of sense. If this is not the case there is a notable out-of-this-world quality about the secretary's dissertation on what is and what is not suited to a 'free democracy.' . . .

"WHAT ARE THE FACTS about the rioting, which began in more or less serious form a month ago? According to The Associated Press, police counter-measures at first were relatively restrained. This seemed to encourage the mobs.

"This week, when the heavy loss of life occurred, the mobs were on the verge of taking over Seoul. Led by high school and college students, they stormed through the streets, stoning police, burning buildings and commandeering police cars.

"Some 500 students swarmed over a barbed-wire barricade in front of the official residence of President Rhee. At that point the police opened fire and many members of the mob were killed or wounded.

'This was deplorable. But at that stage one of two choices was available — bow to mob rule or use force. We think it was necessary to use force and that force will continue to be necessary until order is restored. The alternative is for the Rhee government to abdicate, and we do not suppose this is what the State Department wants.

"Nevertheless, Mr. Herter pronouncements will serve to encourage the rioters — a most unfortunate result, unless the State Department is in possession of justifying facts which it has not revealed."

THE RIGHT of revolution is traditional. If there is to be armed revolt, it would appear that the many Communist agents operating in South Korea will assist substantially in that direction. Then what will happen on the armistice line as between North and South Korea?

Today there are 600,000 South Korean troops and 30,000 American troops guarding the line. Does anybody believe a revolution could occur without involving the troops on the armistice line?

And if that happens, does it not seem logical that Communist China, which controls the North Korean army, will find some excuse to start hostilities?

Will this mean a reopening of the Korean War in the year 1960 when the Republican administration had expected to be telling the American voters that it had achieved peace in Korea and the Far East?

EVERYTHING depends on how potent the State Department public reprimand is going to be. Will it cause a chain reaction inside Korea and force the Rhee government to abdicate? Will this not be pointed to throughout the Communist world as an alleged example of how a powerful Western nation handles a "puppet" government?

Maybe the Korean crisis will be composed by the steady hand of Syngman Rhee. He is in his 80's and so is Adenauer, but nobody in the State Department interfered when the German leader said he wouldn't run for president but would stay on indefinitely as the chancellor.

It's certainly a strange precedent for the United States to be intervening in the internal affairs of another country and particularly at a time when 30,000 American troops are facing an unscrupulous enemy who may not hesitate to take advantage of the dissension among the Western Allies in the Far East.

No New Ideas?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Western Allies, with months to prepare, apparently are going to the summit meeting with the Soviet Union next month with no new ideas. And the Soviet Union, despite some big talk, hasn't produced any new ones, either.

The foreign ministers of the Western Big Four—United States, Britain, France, West Germany —met here recently to work out their plans and reconcile their differences before the conference which opens in Paris May 16.

But if all they said and agreed on could be summed up in one sentence this would be it: Stand pat.

At home the Soviet Union is building up expectations for some dramatic developments when Premier Nikita Khrushchev joins President Eisenhower and the British and French leaders at the summit.

These are the fields most mentioned in Soviet newspapers: A German peace treaty and getting Allied troops out of Berlin, both of which Khrushchev has been demanding more than a year, plus disarmament.

There's nothing new in that, either.

If what French President Charles de Gaulle was saying this week in Canada and what the American State Department said Wednesday look like vital differences on what's important at the summit, a close examination shows no real difference at all.

Khrushchev began calling on the Allies in November 1958 to get their troops out of West Berlin which, although linked with West Germany, lies 100 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The latter, with Soviet help, could shut off supplies to the city from the West any time. The West refuses to budge. The Allied troops couldn't stand off a Communist assault—there are only 11,000 of them—but so long as they remain they are a symbol of the Allied right to be there.

And Khrushchev wants the Western powers to sign separate peace treaties with West and East Germany. The West refuses. To sign would be to acknowledge Germany is rightfully divided. No doubt it would mean the division of Germany for generations, if not permanently.

That's the way it has been for more than a year. So far as is known that is the way it will be when Khrushchev and the Westerners face each other next month.

If there isn't much evidence of optimism that the summit will solve anything, there's good reason: Neither side yet has come up with anything which indicates the summit will be anything more than a pleasant get-together.

Real solutions, if any, will probably have to wait for summit meetings in the future. Nevertheless, the Soviet Union and the West have agreed three matters will be on the summit agenda: Germany, including Berlin; disarmament; and East-West relations.

DeGaulle's Mission In Washington

There are two schools of thought on what French President De Gaulle hopes to accomplish in his conversations with United States officials during his eight-day state visit.

One holds that he is seeking concessions, especially equal sharing with Great Britain of American knowledge and materials for atomic weapons.

The other school believes concession-seeking is too base for President De Gaulle's sense of French dignity, so he will take advantage of his visit to reassert his independence of the other allies.

This, the second school contends, is based on the French leader's idea that he can get more from his allies with a stand-offish attitude than he can with a begging attitude.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that the foremost spokesman for the second school of thought is a leading French editor, who ought to know more about his own president than his foreign counterparts. Besides, history supports the French editor.

Since he jumped into the world spotlight as the self-appointed leader of the Free French after the fall of France in World War II, Charles de Gaulle has consistently refused to have a part in concessions, either giving them or asking them. Britain's Winston Churchill once said the heaviest burden he had to bear in the great war was "the cross of Lorraine."

Back in his homeland after the war, Gen. De Gaulle still stuck to the uncompromising attitude of his unfailing self-confidence. When the French wanted his leadership on his own terms, they had it. When they did not, he retired to his country place. When they decided again they need his leadership on any terms, they got it — on his terms.

If this is the demand President De Gaulle makes of France, which he dearly loves, it is the demand he can be expected to make of other nations, toward whom he is comparatively indifferent.

THUS, WHEN he says France will not be a party to a nuclear test ban that does not provide for the destruction of nuclear weapons in existence, he is backed up by the recollection that France ignored Allied pleadings and proceeded to join the atomic club on its own.

When he says he will withhold approval of NATO strategic air planning and use of atomic bombs unless France becomes a member of the alliance's directorate, he can be taken at his word.

This does not mean President De Gaulle and the other western leaders cannot work together. His sentiments lie with the West. His rigid attitude is not intended so much as a blockade against western solidarity as a constant reminder that he sees France as a proud, sovereign nation worthy of respect in the eyes of the world.

And today, the way Charles de Gaulle sees France is the way France is, for De Gaulle is France.

To The Byways

A Chester girl was injured Wednesday afternoon when a bicycle she and another girl were riding struck a parked car.

Bicycle accidents, unfortunately, are one of the unwelcome phases of good weather.

Bicycling is good exercise and an enjoyable sport. The thing that the cyclist must remember, however, is that the odds are greatly in favor of the other fellow — the driver in the automobile. Nothing has changed since last year. An auto is still a heavier and still a more deadly weapon than a bicycle.

The only logical thing for a cyclist to do is beat a hasty retreat to safer territory. A super highway and a well-surfaced road are more inviting, but at the same time are more dangerous.

For safety's sake, the cyclist should take to the byways. The exercise and the enjoyment will still be there.

Tape Traps Truman In Trite Trick

Former Republican Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson was the man whose rash statements made the phrase "foot-in-mouth disease" famous, but former Democratic President Harry S. Truman certainly qualifies as a worthy fellow-sufferer of the ailment.

Mr. Truman has been caught up in his charge that he was misquoted concerning charges that the Communists engineered the sit-in strikes of Negro students against segregation at southern lunch counters.

Perhaps his real trouble is that he has not caught up with the modern electronics age. He is still relying on the old-time politician's dodge of passing the buck to the reporters who tried to do an accurate job.

Few reporters are experts at shorthand and most of them — even the most experienced — are aware of the occasional fallibility of notes scribbled at hectic pace during the orations of impassioned politicians.

Thus, when Mr. Truman reverted to the "misquoted" alibi in the past, as he has on several occasions, the luckless reporters could only protest faith in their own efforts at accuracy without irrefutable evidence to back them up.

This time, however, the newsmen have the drop on Mr. Truman. Their reports were based on remarks made during a television interview, all of which was taped. When the tape was reviewed, there was Mr. Truman, plain as could be, saying what the reporters said he said, plain as could be.

The upshot of this experience may be that Mr. Truman will in the future avoid making embarrassing statements. But that is doubtful; it is more likely he will avoid television.

The accuracy of its record is too hauntingly exact to fit into the "give 'em hell" pattern of Harry Truman. It protects the reporter from being the fall guy.

With Due Respect To Missileers

One of the remarkable things about military preparations is the way strategy is shaped by unproved and unprovable suppositions.

It isn't popular to remind militarists that they said World War II would be fought with gas and, to that end, had outfitted every man, woman, child and dog with gas masks.

It isn't popular for the same reason to remind them that the Korean War was to be fought with tanks and airplanes, to hear them tell it at the beginning. Instead, it was fought by foot soldiers slogging through the misery that has been the infantry's trademark since Hannibal's spearmen trudged over the Alps in elephant tracks.

The current supposition is that the next war will be fought with missiles and that the first onslaught will be a barrage of Russian missiles laid down on every Strategic Air Command base maintained by the United States. Consequently, it is argued by the planners that all SAC planes would be destroyed if caught on the ground and therefore some should be in the air all the time and others should be ready to fly on a few minutes' notice. This should be continued, it is argued, until the United States has as many missiles as Russia has, whereupon it can junk all its planes.

With due respect for the accuracy of the missileers when they finally polish their art, here is a hunch no air base could be hit by an intercontinental ballistic missle other than by accident. As to the supposition that the enemy in another war would be Russia and that war would be fought between missileers, that is as unproved and unprovable as the assumption that intercontinental missiles ever will be accurate.

In the next war the United States and Russia could be allies again, as they unexpectedly were in the latest one, and that the foe might not have a missile he could call his own.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Uncle Sam could summarize Castro routines this way:

He slugs at us with might and main
Each hour brings a "Down the drain!";
He lashes all from A to Z
And cries, "The world is fighting ME."

Harry Truman says he has deep sympathy for anybody who occupies the White House. (Okay, drop that rock!) . . . "My Fair Lady" went over so big in Moscow that in order to exceed the welcome, President Eisenhower will have to have Eliza Doolittle and Henry Higgins in his party. . . . International small car show in New York gave police a lot of trouble. They had to be alert to stop shoplifters. Found one visitor leaving with two imported station wagons under coat.

ONE TROUBLE the truant officer has today is facing up to the fact the kids play hookey in hotrods. . . .. DuPont stock has dropped over 75 points in the year. Some of the stockholders are now more explosive than company's products. Stock would go up if DuPont chemists could come up with something to make Washington lawsuits disappear.

The New Haven Railroad has sold the famous Boston South Station. Can't help wondering if the transaction papers got in late. . . . Fidel Castro's hysterical charges against all opponents remind us of Jim Barton in old vaudeville routine where in fight after fight with peaceful opponents he cried, "He pulled a knife on me."

Ten year high for vanity, laughs and poor taste was on recent TV interview where a writer (middle-aged and not easy on the eyes) told boastfully how he resisted spell of Marilyn Monroe in boudoir interview. Romeo with sound effects?

Pickets are now picketing men picketing pickets. . . . Newbold Morris, replacing Bob Moses as N.Y. park chief, was once champion ice skater. But he has to fill pants of a fellow who was a wonder at bobsledding around sharp curves and supplying his own snow and ice. . . . There is joy among stage managers. Ed Padula, producer of new hit "Bye, Bye, Birdie," is a former stage boss who made good in the upper brackets. Hundreds saw possibilities of top comedy in Elvis Presley hobby-soxers but it remained for Padula to get a script.

BLEACHER FANS COMMENT on the bad spring of Yanks brought us following cracks: "The team's been leased to Perry Mason who alone can solve the mystery." . . . "The cops should fingerprint every Yank. It could show there ain't a Yank on the team." . . . "They're all taking the Fifth Amendment when Casey asks, 'Why don't you get me some hits?'" . . . "They must of got some of those government banned cranberries down south." . . . But Mortimer Topblower says, "They ain't been playing baseball; they've been doing a crime series."

Ike held a conference on Summit plans at Augusta and why not? It is important that he be set to keep out of rough, avoid traps and insist that Khrushchev be barred from putting down his score on any hole before reaching the green.

Prettied Up!

Seamen Wage Fight Over Freedoms

By Victor Riesel

I've been alongside big, blondish, opened-collared Paul Hall in several small wars. So it was no surprise that the president of the Seafarers International Union had decided to take on the Arab League in what may become a mighty naval engagement keeping scores of ships from going down to the sea from the shores of Tripoli to the big U.S. ports. What angered Paul Hall is that the United Arab Republic had begun imprisoning American sailors without reason — and that the U.S. State Department didn't seem to take this as a personal insult to a country or flag.

Victor Riesel

There is, for bitter example, the case of the American freighter Westport. Last fall it pulled into the sand-blown port of Sues at the southern end of the Canal.

American seafarers were held aboard ship as prisoners in everything but name only. Their seamen's papers were impounded by Prime Minister Nasser's police. They were restricted to their ship in violation of international law. They were not permitted to communicate with anyone except through the Egyptian government.

ONE NIGHT the crew hit on the stratagem of calling a mock fire drill. They sounded the alarm. They rowed to another freighter, the Steel Voyager, anchored nearby. It was also manned by members of the Seafarers. No reason was given for the freedom of the Steel Voyager and the insulting imprisonment of the Westport. Thus word of the Westport's crew's retention was passed on home. They were soon released.

Then there was the American freighter Valiant Faith. It pulled into Port Said on Feb. 11. Nine of the seafarers were denied shore leave and held aboard the imprisoned ship for 28 days.

Finally American authorities forced their release. Two months later, on April 11, they made their home port of New York aboard the U.S. Navy Ship Geiger.

Hall points to these cases as part of "the abuse and vilification of American seamen in Egyptian ports in the same part of the world where the Tripoli pirates once harassed us. We're not going to take it this time any more than American seafarers did then," Hall said.

THIS IS PART of the UAR cold war in which the Nasser government refuses to permit any ship that ever touched in at an Israeli port to put in at a UAR harbor. It makes no difference to Nasser if the American ship docked at Elath or Haifa for water, repairs, fuel, to get medical aid for a sick crew member, or moved cargo in and out years ago.

Hall, stating that no one will decide that freedom of the seas is verboten, ordered the picketing of ship Cleopatra at its New York harbor berth. This action followed Hall's letter to President Eisenhower. The President asked the State Department to reply. It did. It said that it was not U.S. policy to support blacklisting of U.S. ships by any power.

But Paul Hall and his colleagues discovered that the U.S. Department of Agriculture discriminates against ships which have carried cargo to Israel. This is called a charter clause.

It states that American freighters which have traded with Israel cannot carry American government surplus farm cargoes to the Middle East. These cargoes are paid for by the American public. They are sent as gifts to the working people of the Arab lands.

WHEN ONE OF HALL'S staff queried the Agricultural Department, a government spokesman said it was of "no concern" to the department that American ships were being barred.

This reply came through recently. Hall then lined up his pickets. The Arabs plan to counter-picket our ships. Apparently they do not intend to permit the United States freedom of the seas. We've fought bigger sea battles. But none over a greater issue.

Politics A La New York

By Raymond Moley

In what follows I am referring to that part of Greater New York City which is commonly known as Manhattan Island and is officially New York County. Since two years after the inauguration of President Washington, it has been the jealously guarded hunting ground of Tammany Hall.

Each of the other four counties in Greater New York has its own Democratic organization. In 1939 New York County fell in population below Kings (Brooklyn), and Queens. But the Tammany head is still powerful in city affairs, and Mayor Wagner is a native of the island.

To some degree, the political conditions which I shall describe are the same in the Bronx and, to a somewhat lesser degree, in Kings. Only in Queens and Richmond (Staten Island) are there real two-party systems.

A feeble Republican organization exists in Manhattan and duly elects official party leaders prescribed by law for any party — a county committee, assembly district leaders and co-leaders (mostly women), and certain formal officers who serve under a county leader elected by the assembly leaders.

SEVERAL YEARS of rather intimate association with politics in the county have taught me what happens to a minority party and how it manages to live at all. Broadly speaking, it lives because it is to the interest of Tammany to keep it alive.

Why? Because if there were no Republican organization and thus no campaigns each year against an opposition party, Tammany would be riven by internal feuds and factions. It has some of that now in the shape of a group headed by ex-Senator and ex-Governor Herbert Lehman and Mrs. Roosevelt, who want to unseat Carmine de Sapio as leader.

There is also a splinter Liberal Party which needs appeasing. But with a rallying cry against really harmless Republicans, some sort of unity and discipline can be managed. This year Tammany can be rallied for some Democratic presidential candidate. Next year, against a hopeless Republican candidate for mayor.

How is the Republican Party kept in line? In the first place, there is the exceedingly unreliable Republican Party membership. There are plenty of potential Republicans in New York County, but many of them have voting residences in New Jersey, Connecticut, or Long Island. They work and live during the week in town but vote and, what is most important, pay less in taxes out of town.

Those who live in city apartments have been exceedingly mobile in recent years because of the appearance of immense new apartment buildings. Neighbors know little of each other. There is no community unity. Many people of substance maintain a nominal Democratic registration because it is good for their businesses. To mobilize these would be a Herculean task.

Tammany allows the Republicans to have one of the six congressmen in the county. Republicans have 2 of the 16 state Assembly seats. Only one member of the City Council is a Republican, and he is more radical than his Democratic colleagues. These legislators have only nominal opposition and are not disposed to upset the balance that keeps their jobs.

Tammany lets the Republican Party have a slice of patronage in the form of occasional receiverships, some business from real estate, insurance, banking, and other types of private enterprise closely intertwined with political favor.

The only real party patronage a Republican district leader has, aside from the foregoing, are the temporary Christmas post office jobs which are tossed to election district (precinct) captains or their friends.

If a few idealistic people decide to energize themselves and seek to elect a congressman or a state assemblyman, the Republican district leaders put up a bristling front of mutual jealousies plus general indifference. Idealism cannot live in such a climate. That has happened within the month in one congressional district.

U.S. Stand On Korea Seen Awkward Position

A real crisis is developing in Korea. It is more serious than anything that has happened since the Korean War ended seven years ago. It could give the Communists the opportunity they have long sought — to involve the United States in a serious quarrel with its own allies in the Far East. What the Department of State has done in openly reprimanding the government of President Rhee is a bold step. It could prove disastrous for it establishes a precedent that will plague the diplomacy of the United States for years to come.

David Lawrence

For the Department of State has undertaken to pass judgment on the activities of the incumbent party in a national presidential election in a country with which this government is at peace.

Was the election of Rhee "rigged?" His only opposition candidate died while in Washington. The vice presidential contest was bitterly fought but the Rhee party elected its candidate. Charges have been made that many illegalities occurred and that the government supporters actually produced ballots that were not marked by the voters themselves.

EVEN IF THE ACCURACY of these charges were conceded, does this mean that the U.S. government has set itself up as the judge of elections inside other countries? If so, there are plenty of elections in Latin American that will be brought to the attention of officials of the Department of State by defeated parties in years to come.

Couldn't the American government have expressed its displeasure privately and called for a "redress of grievances" by plain-spoken words in the course of diplomatic conversations through the respective ambassadors here or in Seoul, Korea?

The answer given is that the United States has tried this very tactic for several months but that its efforts were fruitless. The wide attention attracted throughout the world by the reported irregularities in the Korean elections finally convinced the Department of State that it had to do something publicly.

In the Far East, however, this will be construed as pulling the rug from beneath the Rhee government. The Washington Evening Star in an editorial made this comment:

"If the State Department is trying to bring down the government of Syngman Rhee in its hour of crisis, the lecture which Mr. Herter has addressed to the South Korean ambassador makes a certain amount of sense. If this is not the case there is a notable out-of-this-world quality about the secretary's dissertation on what is and what is not suited to a 'free democracy.' . . .

"WHAT ARE THE FACTS about the rioting, which began in more or less serious form a month ago? According to The Associated Press, police counter-measures at first were relatively restrained. This seemed to encourage the mobs.

"This week, when the heavy loss of life occurred, the mobs were on the verge of taking over Seoul. Led by high school and college students, they stormed through the streets, stoning police, burning buildings and commandeering police cars.

"Some 500 students swarmed over a barbed-wire barricade in front of the official residence of President Rhee. At that point the police opened fire and many members of the mob were killed or wounded.

'This was deplorable. But at that stage one of two choices was available — bow to mob rule or use force. We think it was necessary to use force and that force will continue to be necessary until order is restored. The alternative is for the Rhee government to abdicate, and we do not suppose this is what the State Department wants.

"Nevertheless, Mr. Herter pronouncements will serve to encourage the rioters — a most unfortunate result, unless the State Department is in possession of justifying facts which it has not revealed."

THE RIGHT of revolution is traditional. If there is to be armed revolt, it would appear that the many Communist agents operating in South Korea will assist substantially in that direction. Then what will happen on the armistice line as between North and South Korea?

Today there are 600,000 South Korean troops and 30,000 American troops guarding the line. Does anybody believe a revolution could occur without involving the troops on the armistice line?

EVERYTHING depends on how potent the State Department public reprimand is going to be. Will it cause a chain reaction inside Korea and force the Rhee government to abdicate? Will this not be pointed to throughout the Communist world as an alleged example of how a powerful Western nation handles a "puppet" government?

Kiwanis Hears Palestine Man

Attorney Sees Rule Of Law Nations Foundation Stone

The rule of law as a foundation stone of American life was emphasized by Atty. James Loshinsky of East Palestine in a "Law Day" talk before the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Atty. Loshinsky, speaking in connection with national "Law Day" May 1, said the observance is designed to foster a deeper respect for the law, to encourage responsible citizenship and to promote national strength and unity.

He said while May 1 has been the traditional holiday for Communists to make a vast display of force, it now serves in the United States as a contrasting observance of government by law and order with individual rights.

"It is a demonstration to the world of the freedoms and justice possible in a true democratic government compared to the rule of force in the Communist countries," he said.

The observance also serves to call attention to the need for greater respect for our laws, a need to which Americans have become more aware through the recent revelations of racketeering, payola and juvenile delinquency, showing a breakdown in the moral fibres of our way of life," he said.

Recognition of what the law means in this nation also brings to each individual understanding of what purpose legal restrictions serve. "The demands the law imposes upon us are nothing compared to the protection it affords," Atty. Loshinsky stated.

He said law guarantees us such rights as a good education, to live where one pleases, to work where one wishes, to worship freely, to receive a fair trial, to vote secretly, to own property, to start a business and to manage one's own affairs.

"These rights have certain limitations so that the individual privileges do not interfere with the rights of others or with the general welfare of society," he explained.

Loshinsky said community chairmen have been appointed throughout Columbiana County for observance of "Law Week" Monday through May 1.

He was introduced by Ed Maloney, program chairman. A delegation of East Palestine Kiwanis Club members attended for an inter-club meeting. William Porter, president, was in charge.

Firemen Push Plans For Carnival In June

Further plans for the annual carnival June 7-11 were made at a meeting of the Lawrenceville firemen Thursday night at the fire station. Tickets for rides of the Heck Amusement Co. at the carnival are now available from firemen.

Plans were made for the weekly auction tonight at 8 at the fire station instead of Saturday night as in the past. Lawrence Haun, president, was in charge. The next meeting will be May 5.

Liquor Profits Soar

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Liquor profits last year soared almost 13 million dollars over 1958, although Ohioans consuumed 489,808 gallons less than the previous year, the Department of Liquor Control reports. Net income for 1959 was $38,327,000 with 11,280,965 gallons of liquor consumed, compared with a net income of $25,359,000 and $769,873 gallons consumed in 1958. The department said the profit increase was due to a 10 per cent average rise in price per bottle, and the sales tax on liquor passed by the last Legislature.

Former Mayors To Honor Lyons

Five former mayors will be among those attending a special testimonial dinner for the retired Chester police chief, Floyd (Doc) Lyons May 4 at the American Legion home.

Earl Wilson, John Duffy, Harry Abrams, Demar Miller and George Scott — under whom the 30-year veteran of the police force served, will be among the guests.

Other old friends will include Logan Wells and Atty. W. W. Ingram of Chester, Lem Dailey of Middlebourne and the Rev. A. F. Hanes of Brownsville, Pa., former minister at Chester.

Dale Allison will be toastmaster and Roy Cashdollar, city clerk-treasurer, will relate Lyons' biography. A gift will be presented by Clyde Chaney, according to Paul Johnston, chairman of the committee arranging the event.

Present city officials will also attend.

Service to the community

A colleague of ours tells this one. On Saturdays he sells dimes (10c each). Seems the neighborhood movie is next door. The kids stop in before the show for dimes—for the vending machines in the theatre. A lot of our business is like this—service to the community. Glad to do it. Because we're conveniently located and open long hours, we're a handy place to pick up change or a bottle of aspirin. But a pharmacist's true service to his community is to be a quick, reliable source of the drugs and medications your physician prescribes. That's the real reason we're here. And we are always pleased to serve you.

Morton Raps Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton charged today that Congress has fallen victim to legislative paralysis because of what he called factional splits and power struggles within the Democratic majority.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Morton appealed for election of a Republican Congress.

He said Democratic party divisions go far beyond the civil rights issue. They have fostered competitive spending programs and immobilized legislation on farm surpluses and other key problems, he added.

Morton said "the present Congress has been in session over a calender period of more than 100 days, and yet until yesterday not one — not a single one — of the President's 166 legislative proposals had received final action.

"Yesterday, after more than 3½ months, the civil rights bill—which contained some but not all of what the President asked—was sent to the White House.

"The chief preoccupation in a Democratic Congress is enforcing an agreement to avoid party-splitting controversies. Consequently, many major issues are either pigeonholed or solutions are watered down in a Democratic effort to placate all the rival Democratic factions."

Morton's argument for the election of a Republican Congress in November included the claim that President Eisenhower's request for lifting of interest ceiling on government bonds is stalled "because the Democrats know that this issue splits their party just as deep and just as wide as civil rights.

"They know a waterfront brawl among Democrats would occur when the issue comes to the floor and this they are striving to avoid."

Nature Films For Programs Available At Public Library

A wealth of good nature films for programs is on tap at the Carnegie Public Library. A trio of color films reveal the secrets of the woods:

"Life in the Forest," "Wildlife and the Human Touch" and "Safety Out-of-Doors." Several fine subjects explain scientific principles for the 10-to-15-year-old group: "Streamlining," "Flowers at Work" and "The Adventures of Willie the Skunk."

Advance listings for May assure a good supply of science films. Outstanding prints include "Petrified River, the Story of Uranium," a 28-minute color study of the famous mineral deposits in Colorado; "Earth Satellites," a 17-minute panorama explaining how man-made satellites stay aloft, and a famous close-up study of the 4 stages in the life cycle of the "Monarch Butterfly."

Films can often provide background tapestries for religious study. For the remainder of April, "The Life of Christ In Art" can be booked; "Rome, City Eternal," shows the art treasures of the Basilica and other intimate glimpses of the Vatican, and there is a 19-minute documentary on Mahatma Ghandi, India's great religious and political leader. During May a short study of "The Holy Land; Background of History and Religion," can be booked, Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said.

Travel movies are a reliable source of entertainment for both young and old. For juveniles this month the library recommends "Greek Children," life in a modern fishing village. During May three geographical films suited for adults will be available. "People of a City" invites an intimate glimpse of Stockholm, Sweden, blended with an exciting musical score. A 16-minute travelogue traces the history of "Indonesia—New Nation of India." "Ancient Petra" is a city of red sandstone in the heart of the Arabian desert, shows the imprint of many ancient civilizations.

Guidance films can be of great assistance in gaining a better understanding of social problems. For the benefit of teen-agers the library suggests two movies: "Getting Along With Parents" and a portrayal of a high school situation designed to stimulate discussion on "Cheating." During May "Dating Do's and Don'ts" will be featured. Parents, too, will find that films afford real advice. "Why Vandalism" is a 16-minute subject, the scourge of many communities. The emotional and physical development of an important age group is treated in "From Ten to Twelve."

Special treats for little children are always to be found in the library's film stock. The current stock includes "Let's Go to the Circus" and "The Fireman." Due to arrive are "Circus at the Zoo," "Taming the Lion" and "Stone Soup." The latter is the revival of a humorous old folktale of wily soldiers who hoodwinked a village of thrifty peasants into giving them the finest food for an elegant meal.

Vignettes from the life of "Marian Anderson" from her early years to her Town Hall recital is a noteworthy inclusion in the May film list. This 26-minute feature includes a program of her favorite numbers.

There are about 278 million English-speaking people in the world.

Fashions for the Graduate

"Ollie Olsen"

Here they come — the class of '60 in their memory making dresses. Each one more lovely than the next. Each one looking forward to graduation and a whirl of summer activities. Fashions for the girl who is just embarking into a brand new world. Fashions for career or campus. Tailored dresses, dressy dresses, cocktail dresses and formals. All of them add up to make her last days in school the most memorable of her life.

Prom dresses that drift through the night gathering moonbeams and memories. Simply beautiful—the romantic floats of silk organza and nylon chiffon that rustle through the gala events. How many hearts will you capture? Bright as butterflies — airy as a breeze. That's the look of the new formals at Olsen's. You'll adore the one fashioned of sheer, white nylon organza over a three tiered pink petticoat of nylon net. Billows out like a huge pink cloud. The boys love the feminine look of these gowns, and Dad loves the look of the price tag — only $22.79 — in sizes 5-15.

What to wear with your formals? Have you seen the new shipment of tiaras just received this week at Olsen's jewelry department? Fashioned of dazzling rhinestones and lustrous pearls. And they are designed with little combs on each side to hold them securely in place. Quite regal looking and you'll feel like a queen even if they cost just a mere $1.88. What could be prettier for the crown of your head.

Then there's loads and loads of evening bags to carry all your little, personal, beauty secrets. Made of satin and covered with seed pearls and bugle beads. Clutch types, pouches with dainty chain handles, and brocaded envelope styles. All for the tiny price of 1.88. Oh, and don't forget to tuck the back door key in when you leave.

"Shades of Great Grandma's day" — Petticoats by the dozen. Exciting lacy bouffants. Nylon lace over—not one—but two fluffy full underskirts of nylon marquisette. You'll want to wear two or three of these beauties, and they are only 3.88. Sizes small, medium and large.

Dresses for Commencement, Baccalaureate or any of your important events. Olsen's have them all. Dazzling white cottons, so light in fabric, to wear under your robe the night of Commencement. Slim sheaths to flatter your figure. Our favorite is the one that is embroidered white on white. Then there's a cute one that has dainty white lace on the deep cut neck and shoulders. Of course they are sleeveless.

Then there's the pretty pastels in drip dry fabrics, too, as fresh as lemon frost with lovely accents of white. Yes, the spirit of youth is in these lovely cottons found at Olsen's. Sheaths, whirling full skirts — crop top and baby doll sleeves—all to make you look as pretty as a picture. In the loveliest colors, too. Pink, pouder, maize, lilac and mint. At the wonderful low price of 10.79.

If you can talk dad into more, there's some beauties at 13.79 — in sizes 5-15; 10-18.

That's all today — See you next Friday.

Ollie Olsen

what's new at Olsen's

Fashions for the Graduate

"Ollie Olsen"

Here they come — the class of '60 in their memory making dresses. Each one more lovely than the next. Each one looking forward to graduation and a whirl of summer activities. Fashions for the girl who is just embarking into a brand new world. Fashions for career or campus. Tailored dresses, dressy dresses, cocktail dresses and formals. All of them add up to make her last days in school the most memorable of her life.

Prom dresses that drift through the night gathering moonbeams and memories. Simply beautiful—the romantic floats of silk organza and nylon chiffon that rustle through the gala events. How many hearts will you capture? Bright as butterflies — airy as a breeze. That's the look of the new formals at Olsen's. You'll adore the one fashioned of sheer, white nylon organza over a three tiered pink petticoat of nylon net. Billows out like a huge pink cloud. The boys love the feminine look of these gowns, and Dad loves the look of the price tag — only $22.79 — in sizes 5-15.

What to wear with your formals? Have you seen the new shipment of tiaras just received this week at Olsen's jewelry department? Fashioned of dazzling rhinestones and lustrous pearls. And they are designed with little combs on each side to hold them securely in place. Quite regal looking and you'll feel like a queen even if they cost just a mere $1.88. What could be prettier for the crown of your head.

Then there's loads and loads of evening bags to carry all your little, personal, beauty secrets. Made of satin and covered with seed pearls and bugle beads. Clutch types, pouches with dainty chain handles, and brocaded envelope styles. All for the tiny price of 1.88. Oh, and don't forget to tuck the back door key in when you leave.

"Shades of Great Grandma's day" — Petticoats by the dozen. Exciting lacy bouffants. Nylon lace over—not one—but two fluffy full underskirts of nylon marquisette. You'll want to wear two or three of these beauties, and they are only 3.88. Sizes small, medium and large.

Dresses for Commencement, Baccalaureate or any of your important events. Olsen's have them all. Dazzling white cottons, so light in fabric, to wear under your robe the night of Commencement. Slim sheaths to flatter your figure. Our favorite is the one that is embroidered white on white. Then there's a cute one that has dainty white lace on the deep cut neck and shoulders. Of course they are sleeveless.

Then there's the pretty pastels in drip dry fabrics, too, as fresh as lemon frost with lovely accents of white. Yes, the spirit of youth is in these lovely cottons found at Olsen's. Sheaths, whirling full skirts — crop top and baby doll sleeves—all to make you look as pretty as a picture. In the loveliest colors, too. Pink, pouder, maize, lilac and mint. At the wonderful low price of 10.79.

If you can talk dad into more, there's some beauties at 13.79 — in sizes 5-15; 10-18.

That's all today — See you next Friday.

Ollie Olsen

Excise Tax Take Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Excise taxes collected in March from cigarettes, 3.2 beer, wine and malt beverages totaled $7,036,692, highest monthly revenue so far this year, the Tax Department reports. The total compares with $4,721,447 a year earlier—almost a 50 per cent increase, resulting from cigarette and beer tax increases effective last June. April's collections probably will be even higher because the horse racing season has begun in Ohio, the department said.

Over New York City, 80 per cent of all lightning bolts travel up from the spires of tall buildings, not down, because Manhattan is super charged with electricity.

'Ambrosia' Gives Diet A Lift

Some of you take a dim view of diet fare. You are convinced that in order to lose weight you must stick to a small list of unpalatable foods. Such pessimism gets you nowhere!

By Ida Jean Kain

One reader has worked out a diet philosophy that adds zest to daily fare. She writes: "Will you please tell me what 'ambrosia' means at the end of your diet dinner? I have decided to take it to mean anything one's heart desires ... within the amount of said calories. Right?"

Perfect! Ambrosia, the word that means to delight the senses, is the name given a fruit dessert of sliced orange and sliced banana, a half each, plus a tablespoon of coconut sprinkled a-top. The count for that size serving is 100 calories.

BUT WHY NOT use the word in the more imaginative sense ... as food exquisitely gratifying to the taste or sense. Regard those 100 calories as lagniappe ... a small present for the dieter, and they will taste absolutely ambrosial.

How would you like to spend those bonus calories — in a nectar, a delicious bit of cheese cake, an inch wedge of cherry pie, a special fruit, or for a half ounce portion of your favorite cheese, plus cream and sugar in your coffee? They're your calories, have them in any form that suits your fancy.

Friends, that's the joy of keeping count on the calories. You know right where you stand and with this method you can rule the diet ... it need not rule you. For proof of the pudding, tune in on this letter. A reducer from North Carolina writes:

"A friend of mine told me about calorie counting and I find it is really the only right way to diet. By this plan, if you want some special favorite real bad, you can have a serving of that and let something else go.

'Ambrosia' Gives Diet A Lift

Some of you take a dim view of diet fare. You are convinced that in order to lose weight you must stick to a small list of unpalatable foods. Such pessimism gets you nowhere!

By Ida Jean Kain

One reader has worked out a diet philosophy that adds zest to daily fare. She writes: "Will you please tell me what 'ambrosia' means at the end of your diet dinner? I have decided to take it to mean anything one's heart desires ... within the amount of said calories. Right?"

Perfect! Ambrosia, the word that means to delight the senses, is the name given a fruit dessert of sliced orange and sliced banana, a half each, plus a tablespoon of coconut sprinkled a-top. The count for that size serving is 100 calories.

BUT WHY NOT use the word in the more imaginative sense ... as food exquisitely gratifying to the taste or sense. Regard those 100 calories as lagniappe ... a small present for the dieter, and they will taste absolutely ambrosial.

How would you like to spend those bonus calories — in a nectar, a delicious bit of cheese cake, an inch wedge of cherry pie, a special fruit, or for a half ounce portion of your favorite cheese, plus cream and sugar in your coffee? They're your calories, have them in any form that suits your fancy.

Friends, that's the joy of keeping count on the calories. You know right where you stand and with this method you can rule the diet ... it need not rule you. For proof of the pudding, tune in on this letter. A reducer from North Carolina writes:

"A friend of mine told me about calorie counting and I find it is really the only right way to diet. By this plan, if you want some special favorite real bad, you can have a serving of that and let something else go.

"When I started counting calories, I weighed 235 pounds ... that was the first day of August, 1959. Now I weigh 171 pounds ... which is 64 pounds off. I lost weight once before, not by the calorie method, and that time I gained it back. By this plan, I know I can keep the pounds off.

"I did wear dress size 24½ and now I am wearing a 16½ comfortably. When I have a spell of longing for some food I break over, but the secret is to go right back the next day to keeping score on calories.

"TELL YOUR dieters the plan works. I have always been real heavy. With the fat off I feel so much better. Maybe my letter will help some other heavyweights."

Right! Dieters, the calorie yardstick applied to your meals really will help you to rule the diet and your weight. So what are you waiting for?

Lisbon School Clinics Slated

LISBON — Pre-school clinics will be held at the McKinley School this month and next, according to Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge, school nurse.

The first will be Thursday at 9 a. m., the second at the same hours May 26.

All kindergarten pupils who will enter school in September should be presented, the nurse said. First grade children, who will enter school in September and who are not presently in kindergarten, also should also be taken, Mrs. Ashbridge said. Parents who prefer to take their children to their family physician instead may do so, however.

The Columbiana County Board of Health, under the direction of Dr. C. S. Palmer, health commissioner, will furnish polio vaccine for children entering school in September—if their parents have not provided such immunizations. The first two shots will be administered at these clinics. The third shot will be given in the fall. Parents are encouraged to secure the fourth shot from the family physician.

The clinics will not include physical examinations, dental checkups or eye tests and parents are requested to take their childrren to their family doctor for these.

All parents are required by state law to have their children protected before entering school and protection against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and polio is mandatory.

Three Indicted In Bribery Will Be Arraigned On Monday

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Three Massillon men accused of bribery will be arraigned here Monday morning before Common Pleas Judge George N. Graham. They were named in the first indictments returned by a special grand jury investigating gambling in Stark County.

The three, arrested Thursday, are free on $1,000 bond each.

Robert H. Dennison, 39, a policeman and former plainclothesman. He is accused of accepting a bribe from Jesse Toles, former smoke shop operator, about Oct. 1, 1957 and at other times after that.

Michael Miljanich, 35, former operator of The Smokery, accused of offering bribes, in four indictments of two counts each, on or about July 1, 1959.

Joseph P. Berbari, 44, a former smoke shop operator indicted jointly with Miljanich on one indictment of two counts of offering bribes.

The indictments named Massillon policemen William Ilg, John DiLoretto, Prescott Johnson, John Maier and Hampton Davis as having been offered bribes, either by Miljanich alone or with Berbari. The five policemen testified before the grand jury.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putman declined to reveal the nature of the evidence against the three men indicted or the amount of money involved in the alleged bribes.

"There will be no comments about the evidence; these cases will be tried in court, not in the newspapers," he said.

The grand jury, impaneled last January at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, has been recessed subject to further call. McElroy said the panel later will consider evidence involving Canton, Alliance and the rest of the county.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph R. Ralston, in charge of the investigation, said the indictments do not necessarily mean the probe is ended so far as Massillon is concerned.

Census Staffs Begin Cleanup

Area census leaders have begun the final phase of the 1960 population and housing enumberation, which will include accounting for household questionnaires left at the recent visitations and counting of "transients" today.

Howard Borden, district supervisor at Steubenville, said squads of picked crew leaders and census takers will fan out over the area tonight to tabulate persons who do not have a fixed address.

Parks, all-night theaters, missions and other areas will be checked for persons not yet enumerated.

The census leaders will also be checking on persons who have failed to return the blue household questionnaires left at every fourth home during the first stage of the census this month.

They will also work at obtaining complete information on some forms which were not filled out as required.

Watts Is Charged In Wounding Case

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — A Wayne County official says no more comments will be made on the case of Kenneth Watts, who was sought for questioning in two shootings.

Watts, 20, was returned here Thursday and charged with shooting Mrs. Lewis Wagner with intent to kill.

He had been sought for questioning also in the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. William Fender in their home near Doylestown Saturday night, the night after Mrs. Wagner, 25, was wounded at her home a few miles away in Rittman.

Asst. Prosecutor Richard C. Kauffman said since some Wayne County residents may be on a jury trying the case no comments will be made on evidence or on statements by Watts.

Authorities said Watts neither admits nor denies shooting Mrs. Wagner. They quoted him as saying he blacked out and doesn't remember what happened.

Armco Bares Record Sales And Earnings

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Armco Steel Corp.'s sales and net earnings during the first three months of 1960 were the greatest in the firm's history for that period.

Logan T. Johnston, Armco president, reported to shareholders Thursday that sales were $274,308,574 in the first quarter and earnings were $23,957,994 or the equivalent of $1.62 a share.

Last year first quarter sales were $259,249,797 and earnings $21,152,038 or $1.43 a share.

Johnston said Armco produced steel at 100.9 per cent of capacity in the three months. He predicted the steel industry as a whole would produce at 80 per cent of capacity in 1960 and that Armco's production rate would be slightly higher than the national average.

Illegal Operation Cited In Death Of Woman

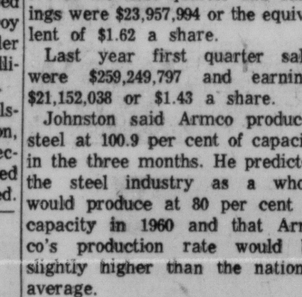

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — An illegal operation by a person unknown has been blamed for the death of Mrs. M. J. Vrentas, 28, of Cincinnati, mother of four. Mrs. Vrentas died Tuesday about three hours after she had entered a physician's office.

Dr. A. A. Gruber, Clermont County coroner, said his findings have been turned over to Prosecutor Ralph Hill. He reported the physician in whose office Mrs. Vrentas died denied performing any operation and said he only tried to save her life after she came to him.

Separation of Twins

- Pinworm Carriers
- Feeble-Minded Offspring

Q. Is it advisable to put twins in different classrooms on starting school?
A. It is generally advisable to gradually bring about some separation between twins. If they are together all the time and dealt with as though they were one person, they tend to lean exclusively on each other. It is also easier for twins to gain a feeling of individuality if they are not together all the time. Separate classrooms, when feasible, would seem best.

Q. Is it possible for a person to become infected with pinworm through contact with a dog? The veterinarian said dogs are not carriers of pinworms.
A. The veterinarian was correct. House pets, including the dog, have been shown to play no role in the spread of this infection. The human is the sole natural host of the parasite and transmission of the disease is from person to person.

Q. About two years ago we adopted a baby. The mother was unwed and feeble-minded. What are the chances of our baby being subnormal?
A. There are many causes of mental deficiency. To give a satisfactory answer to this question it would be necessary to know the cause in this case. However, it is not unlikely that, since the baby had at least one feeble-minded parent, the chances are much greater than average that the child also will be mentally below par.

Far from being a burdensome addition to the cost of illness, nothing so vitally important to you costs so little as prescribed medicine.

Republic Reports Record Income In First 3 Months

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. reports its net income for the three months ended March 31 was the highest for a first quarter in its history.

Board Chairman C. M. White said net earnings for the period totaled $28,239,545, equal to $1.80 per share of common stock, compared with $26,844,565, or $1.71 a share, for the first quarter of 1959.

White said in the report Thursday the nation's third largest steel producer operated at 92.4 per cent of capacity during the first three months of 1960, with ingot production amounting to 2,928,955 tons. Steel shipments totaled 1,972,171 tons.

Steel consumption is holding at a high level while production, which has been running even higher because of the inventory buildup following last year's strike, has declined somewhat and stabilized more in line with consumption, the board chairman said.

LISBON — Pre-school clinics will be held at the McKinley School this month and next, according to Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge, school nurse.

The first will be Thursday at 9 a. m., the second at the same hours May 26.

Palmer, health commissioner, will furnish polio vaccine for children entering school in September—if their parents have not provided such immunizations. The first two shots will be administered at these clinics. The third shot will be given in the fall. Parents are encouraged to secure the fourth shot from the family physician.

The clinics will not include physical examinations, dental checkups or eye tests and parents are requested to take their childrren to their family doctor for these.

All parents are required by state law to have their children protected before entering school and protection against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and polio is mandatory.

Three Indicted In Bribery Will Be Arraigned On Monday

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Three Massillon men accused of bribery will be arraigned here Monday morning before Common Pleas Judge George N. Graham. They were named in the first indictments returned by a special grand jury investigating gambling in Stark County.

The three, arrested Thursday, are free on $1,000 bond each.

Robert H. Dennison, 39, a policeman and former plainclothesman. He is accused of accepting a bribe from Jesse Toles, former smoke shop operator, about Oct. 1, 1957 and at other times after that.

Michael Miljanich, 36, former operator of The Smokery, accused of offering bribes, in four indictments of two counts each, on or about July 1, 1959.

Joseph P. Berbari, 44, a former smoke shop operator indicted jointly with Miljanich on one indictment of two counts of offering bribes.

The indictments named Massillon policemen William Ilg, John DiLoretto, Prescott Johnson, John Maier and Hampton Davis as having been offered bribes, either by Miljanich alone or with Berbari. The five policemen testified before the grand jury.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putman declined to reveal the nature of the evidence against the three men indicted or the amount of money involved in the alleged bribes.

"There will be no comments about the evidence; these cases will be tried in court, not in the newspapers," he said.

The grand jury, impaneled last January at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, has been recessed subject to further call. McElroy said the panel later will consider evidence involving Canton, Alliance and the rest of the county.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph R. Ralston, in charge of the investigation, said the indictments do not necessarily mean the probe is ended so far as Massillon is concerned.

Negro Files Affidavits Against Ohio Barber

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) —A Negro student at Antioch College has filed two affidavits in Mayor's Court against a local barber he accuses of refusing to wait on the student because of his race.

Ossie Wortham said Louis Gagner, owner of Gagner's Barber Shop, refused to wait on him when he and three white youths entered the shop Saturday.

The Yellow Springs chapter of the NAACP also wrote a letter to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle saying that village officials have failed to live up to integration laws. Mayor's court will hear Wortham's affidavits April 25.

Census Staffs Begin Cleanup

Area census leaders have begun the final phase of the 1960 population and housing enumberation, which will include accounting for household questionnaires left at the recent visitations and counting of "transients" today.

Howard Borden, district supervisor at Steubenville, said squads of picked crew leaders and census takers will fan out over the area tonight to tabulate persons who do not have a fixed address.

Parks, all-night theaters, missions and other areas will be checked for persons not yet enumerated.

The census leaders will also be checking on persons who have failed to return the blue household questionnaires left at every fourth home during the first stage of the census this month.

They will also work at obtaining complete information on some forms which were not filled out as required.

Watts Is Charged In Wounding Case

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — A Wayne County official says no more comments will be made on the case of Kenneth Watts, who was sought for questioning in two shootings.

Watts, 20, was returned here Thursday and charged with shooting Mrs. Lewis Wagner with intent to kill.

He had been sought for questioning also in the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. William Fender in their home near Doylestown Saturday night, the night after Mrs. Wagner, 25, was wounded at her home a few miles away in Rittman.

Asst. Prosecutor Richard C. Kauffman said since some Wayne County residents may be on a jury trying the case no comments will be made on evidence or on statements by Watts.

Authorities said Watts neither admits nor denies shooting Mrs. Wagner. They quoted him as saying he blacked out and doesn't remember what happened.

Armco Bares Record Sales And Earnings

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Armco Steel Corp.'s sales and net earnings during the first three months of 1960 were the greatest in the firm's history for that period.

Logan T. Johnston, Armco president, reported to shareholders Thursday that sales were $274,308,574 in the first quarter and earnings were $23,957,994 or the equivelent of $1.62 a share.

Last year first quarter sales were $259,249,797 and earnings $21,152,036 or $1.43 a share.

Johnston said Armco produced steel at 100.9 per cent of capacity in the three months. He predicted the steel industry as a whole would produce at 80 per cent of capacity in 1960 and that Armco's production rate would be slightly higher than the national average.

Illegal Operation Cited In Death Of Woman

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — An illegal operation by a person unknown has been blamed for the death of Mrs. M. J. Vrentas, 28, of Cincinnati, mother of four. Mrs. Vrentas died Tuesday about three hours after she had entered a physician's office.

Dr. A. A. Gruber, Clermont County coroner, said his findings have been turned over to Prosecutor Ralph Hill. He reported the physician in whose office Mrs. Vrentas died denied performing any operation and said he only tried to save her life after she came to him.

Republic Reports Record Income In First 3 Months

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. reports its net income for the three months ended March 31 was the highest for a first quarter in its history.

Board Chairman C. M. White said net earnings for the period totaled $28,239,545, equal to $1.80 per share of common stock, compared with $26,844,565, or $1.71 a share, for the first quarter of 1959.

White said in the report Thursday the nation's third largest steel producer operated at 92.4 per cent of capacity during the first three months of 1960, with ingot production amounting to 2,928,955 tons. Steel shipments totaled 1,972,171 tons.

Steel consumption is holding at a high level while production, which has been running even higher because of the inventory buildup following last year's strike, has declined somewhat and stabilized more in line with consumption, the board chairman said.

Separation of Twins
- Pinworm Carriers
- Feeble-Minded Offspring

Q. Is it advisable to put twins in different classrooms on starting school?
A. It is generally advisable to gradually bring about some separation between twins. If they are together all the time and dealt with as though they were one person, they tend to lean exclusively on each other. It is also easier for twins to gain a feeling of individuality if they are not together all the time. Separate classrooms, when feasible, would seem best.

Q. Is it possible for a person to become infected with pinworm through contact with a dog? The veterinarian said dogs are not carriers of pinworms.
A. The veterinarian was correct. House pets, including the dog, have been shown to play no role in the spread of this infection. The human is the sole natural host of the parasite and transmission of the disease is from person to person.

Q. About two years ago we adopted a baby. The mother was unwed and feeble-minded. What are the chances of our baby being subnormal?
A. There are many causes of mental deficiency. To give a satisfactory answer to this question it would be necessary to know the cause in this case. However, it is not unlikely that, since the baby had at least one feeble-minded parent, the chances are much greater than average that the child also will be mentally below par.

Far from being a burdensome addition to the cost of illness, nothing so vitally important to you costs so little as prescribed medicine.

Miller Wants To Keep Being Boss

By MILES A. SMITH

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ray T. Miller Sr. has a strong will.

Men of that mold seldom brook opposition, and Miller is no exception. As chairman of the Democratic party in Cuyahoga County he has fought many a political tussle, often with members of his own party. He has made his share of enemies, including some who had been his friends.

Through it all he has clung doggedly to the principle of discipline —the discipline that springs from loyalty. He gives loyalty and expects it in return. And he wants no interference with the discipline he exerts on the banks of the Cuyahoga.

These observations are the key to an understanding of the current fight between Miller and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Nominally it is over the choice of delegates to the national party convention, all of whom will be in favor of U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. Actually, Miller wants to keep his grip on the Democratic organization here, regardless of what the Ohio party leaders want. He is boss in his own bailiwick and intends to keep on being boss.

But he is far different from the stereotyped notion conveyed by the words "political boss." The popular conception of a political boss is a man who represents the vested interests and manipulates office-holders so he can obtain lush contracts for whatever commercial companies he may own.

But Miller, who has grown wealthy in the practice of law, shuns cases involving the city or county and prides himself on "never asking anything from them." For years his clients have included labor organizations, including two of the largest railroad brotherhoods. From the very beginning, he has paid close attention to the political hopes and desires of Cleveland's many-tongued cosmopolitan population.

Before he became a lawyer by vocation and political chairman by avocation, he had a career in which he might have been called "Battling Miller."

It began at Notre Dame. A Defiance, Ohio, boy who was born in 1895, he waited on tables and did janitor work to earn his way through college. He was one of five brothers who played football there—his brother Don became one of the famous "Four Horsemen"—and as a six-foot, 145-pound end had a fight on his hands to get into the lineup. He played one or two periods a game as a second stringer behind a young man named Knute Rockne.

Then came an interval of chasing Pancho Villa with the American forces in Mexico, and a postlude of searching for Mexican gold.

When World War I came, he was in the thick of it. He went to France as a lieutenant, participated in most of the major offensives, and won his captiancy in the Meuse-Argonne.

Sitting now in his comfortable, but not pretentious, law office, with close cropped gray hair and rugged, muscle-lined features, he says "I remember those days well." He likes to tell of the time an artillery shell killed four men and wounded several others, a minute after he had left the scene to work his way back up to the foxholes of a hill position at the front.

As a young lawyer in post-war Cleveland he ran for prosecutor and made it on the third try, in 1928, as the only Democrat in the Courthouse. Almost immediately a series of bribe scandals broke at City Hall and when the young prosecutor was not busy with this mess, there were gangster trials and other excitements. He won re-election in 1930, helped his party upset the city manager form of government and as a courageous crusader became the party's logical candidate for mayor in 1932. He beat former city manager Daniel Morgan and the minute he got into office, had every depression problem dumped into his lap.

He had a mountainous problem of bread lines and relief. He cut expenses by weeding out City Hall. Out went two Republicans and in went one Democrat. But his own party suffered from splits and he was defeated in the mayoralty race of 1933—and again in 1935. He "retired" and started building up his law practice. Now he looks back on that first career as one of his most satisfying experiences.

It was in 1938 that he began the fight to take over party control from the late W. B. Gongwer. It was in 1941 that one of his proteges, Frank J. Lausche, was swept into office as mayor.

"Labor came to me and asked assurances that Lausche would not re-appoint Eliot Ness as safety director," he says now. "I told them to go to Lausche, but they wanted my word. Lausche gave me his word in this very office, and I gave it to labor. But he broke his word. I did the only thing I could. I broke with Lausche, publicly."

They have been at odds ever since. Miller even made an unsuccessful race against Lausche in the gubernatorial primary of 1948. He admits now that he did not think the Democrats could win that year, but Lausche gained the governor's chair for the second time as Harry S. Truman beat Thomas E. Dewey.

Another Miller protege was Thomas A. Burke, who became mayor and finally, by appointment of Lausche, a United States senator. But in Miller's code, Burke became too independent and the coolness between them has intensified. Now Burke is on DiSalle's slate of candidates for delegate.

Through the years the Miller organization has maintained a tight grip on the county Courthouse. It always has maintained at least a truce with City Hall. It was against Anthony Celebrezze when he was elected mayor, later became neutral, and endorsed him the last time he was re-elected.

And Miller has guided very adroitly the county's representation in the state Legislature. It is significant that he wants to hold it together as a unit, regardless of what the state administration has in mind.

That is at the root of his fight with DiSalle. It began right after DiSalle's election. The Cuyahoga delegation has a lot of weight in the state Capitol. Miller thought he had a go-ahead from DiSalle to put James J. McGettrick of Rocky River into the speaker's chair of the House. He soon found that DiSalle's own choices were being named leaders of both the House and the Senate. That started the fight.

When it came time to select delegates to this year's national convention, Miller submitted to the state organization a list of his own choosing. He contends that by rule and protocol, Cuyahoga County should have a major share of the delegation. To be selected by Miller, of course. But DiSalle did not go along.

"He denied us home rule," says Miller with darkening eyes and tightening jaw. "He refused his consent because we did not pledge our support to him.'

So Miller put up his own slate for Cuyahoga County and some of the downstate districts. If all are elected they will have 29 votes. The state organization has entered a complete slate for a total of 64 votes, competing with Miller in his home county. The DiSalle people are pledged to the governor as a favorite son, but will vote for Kennedy. The Miller forces are pledged nominally to County Engineer Albert S. Porter, but will vote for Kennedy.

Miller expects to be elected a delegate on May 3. He attended his first national convention in 1932, missed the 1936 conclave when he was in political "retirement," and has been at all the rest, often as chairman of the delegation.

Speeding Complaints Prompt Use Of Radar

The police department put its radar timing equipment into service today after complaints of speeding and "hot-rod" tactics were received by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Chief Americo Radeschi.

The chief said the speed check will concentrate in the areas in which the complaints originated: W. 8th St. near Westgate School, the Pennsylvania Ave. area near East Junior High School and St. Clair Ave. There were other scattered complaints from parts of the East End and downtown areas and from sections of Lisbon St. and Dresden Ave., he added.

"If speeders can't heed our warnings, they'll have to learn the hard way," the chief said. He said the radar equipment will be used daily until speeding has been abated.

NLRB Cites 2 Ohio Firms

MARION, Ohio (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today handed down a cease and desist order to Abbott & Co., makers of electrical wiring systems.

The NLRB ordered the company to stop interrogating employes concerning their union activities, sympathies, membership and affiliation.

The board made Abbott & Co. re-hire six employes who had been fired because of a misunderstanding with the company. The six employes also are to be given the money they lost in pay since Jan. 25, 1960.

The cease and desist order said the company should not interfere or try to stop anyone from joining a union.

The NLRB handed down a similar decision today against the Burke Golf Equipment Corp. of Newark, Ohio, in the case of the Burke firm and the Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO.

The Newark firm was ordered to cease and desist from:

Discouraging membership in any labor union through discrimination in employment practices; questioning employes about membership in or sympathies for a union; or in any other manner interfering with, restraining or coercing employes in the right of self-organization as applied to a union.

The board ordered the Burke Corp. to offer immediate and full reinstatement to two women employes, dismissed through what the NLRB termed discrimination.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ray T. Miller Sr. has a strong will.

Men of that mold seldom brook opposition, and Miller is no exception. As chairman of the Democratic party in Cuyahoga County he has fought many a political tussle, often with members of his own party. He has made his share of enemies, including some who had been his friends.

Through it all he has clung doggedly to the principle of discipline —the discipline that springs from loyalty. He gives loyalty and expects it in return. And he wants no interference with the discipline he exerts on the banks of the Cuyahoga.

These observations are the key to an understanding of the current fight between Miller and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Nominally it is over the choice of delegates to the national party convention, all of whom will be in favor of U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. Actually, Miller wants to keep his grip on the Democratic organization here, regardless of what the Ohio party leaders want. He is boss in his own bailiwick and intends to keep on being boss.

But he is far different from the stereotyped notion conveyed by the words "political boss." The popular conception of a political boss is a man who represents the vested interests and manipulates office-holders so he can obtain lush contracts for whatever commercial companies he may own.

But Miller, who has grown wealthy in the practice of law, shuns cases involving the city or county and prides himself on "never asking anything from them." For years his clients have included labor organizations, including two of the largest railroad brotherhoods. From the very beginning, he has paid close attention to the political hopes and desires of Cleveland's many-tongued cosmopolitan population.

Before he became a lawyer by vocation and political chairman by avocation, he had a career in which he might have been called "Battling Miller."

It began at Notre Dame. A Defiance, Ohio, boy who was born in 1895, he waited on tables and did janitor work to earn his way through college. He was one of five brothers who played football there—his brother Don became one of the famous "Four Horsemen"—and as a six-foot, 145-pound end had a fight on his hands to get into the lineup. He played one or two periods a game as a second stringer behind a young man named Knute Rockne.

Then came an interval of chasing Pancho Villa with the American forces in Mexico, and a postlude of searching for Mexican gold.

When World War I came, he was in the thick of it. He went to France as a lieutenant, participated in most of the major offensives, and won his captiancy in the Meuse-Argonne.

Sitting now in his comfortable, but not pretentious, law office, with close cropped gray hair and rugged, muscle-lined features, he says "I remember those days well." He likes to tell of the time an artillery shell killed four men and wounded several others, a minute after he had left the scene to work his way back up to the foxholes of a hill position at the front.

As a young lawyer in post-war Cleveland he ran for prosecutor and made it on the third try, in 1928, as the only Democrat in the Courthouse. Almost immediately a series of bribe scandals broke at City Hall and when the young prosecutor was not busy with this mess, there were gangster trials and other excitements. He won re-election in 1930, helped his party upset the city manager form of government and as a courageous crusader became the party's logical candidate for mayor in 1932. He beat former city manager Daniel Morgan and the minute he got into office, had every depression problem dumped into his lap.

He had a mountainous problem of bread lines and relief. He cut expenses by weeding out City Hall. Out went two Republicans and in went one Democrat. But his own party suffered from splits and he was defeated in the mayoralty race of 1933—and again in 1935. He "retired" and started building up his law practice. Now he looks back on that first career as one of his most satisfying experiences.

It was in 1938 that he began the fight to take over party control from the late W. B. Gongwer. It was in 1941 that one of his proteges, Frank J. Lausche, was swept into office as mayor.

"Labor came to me and asked assurances that Lausche would not re-appoint Eliot Ness as safety director," he says now. "I told them to go to Lausche, but they wanted my word. Lausche gave me his word in this very office, and I gave it to labor. But he broke his word. I did the only thing I could. I broke with Lausche, publicly."

They have been at odds ever since. Miller even made an unsuccessful race against Lausche in the gubernatorial primary of 1948. He admits now that he did not think the Democrats could win that year, but Lausche gained the governor's chair for the second time as Harry S. Truman beat Thomas E. Dewey.

Another Miller protege was Thomas A. Burke, who became mayor and finally, by appointment of Lausche, a United States senator. But in Miller's code, Burke became too independent and the coolness between them has intensified. Now Burke is on DiSalle's slate of candidates for delegate.

Through the years the Miller organization has maintained a tight grip on the county Courthouse. It always has maintained at least a truce with City Hall. It was against Anthony Celebrezze when he was elected mayor, later became neutral, and endorsed him the last time he was re-elected.

And Miller has guided very adroitly the county's representation in the state Legislature. It is significant that he wants to hold it together as a unit, regardless of what the state administration has in mind.

That is at the root of his fight with DiSalle. It began right after DiSalle's election. The Cuyahoga delegation has a lot of weight in the state Capitol. Miller thought he had a go-ahead from DiSalle to put James J. McGettrick of Rocky River into the speaker's chair of the House. He soon found that DiSalle's own choices were being named leaders of both the House and the Senate. That started the fight.

When it came time to select delegates to this year's national convention, Miller submitted to the state organization a list of his own choosing. He contends that by rule and protocol, Cuyahoga County should have a major share of the delegation. To be selected by Miller, of course. But DiSalle did not go along.

"He denied us home rule," says Miller with darkening eyes and tightening jaw. "He refused his consent because we did not pledge our support to him.'

So Miller put up his own slate for Cuyahoga County and some of the downstate districts. If all are elected they will have 29 votes. The state organization has entered a complete slate for a total of 64 votes, competing with Miller in his home county. The DiSalle people are pledged to the governor as a favorite son, but will vote for Kennedy. The Miller forces are pledged nominally to County Engineer Albert S. Porter, but will vote for Kennedy.

Miller expects to be elected a delegate on May 3. He attended his first national convention in 1932, missed the 1936 conclave when he was in political "retirement," and has been at all the rest, often as chairman of the delegation.

Speeding Complaints Prompt Use Of Radar

The police department put its radar timing equipment into service today after complaints of speeding and "hot-rod" tactics were received by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Chief Americo Radeschi.

The chief said the speed check will concentrate in the areas in which the complaints originated: W. 8th St. near Westgate School, the Pennsylvania Ave. area near East Junior High School and St. Clair Ave. There were other scattered complaints from parts of the East End and downtown areas and from sections of Lisbon St. and Dresden Ave., he added.

"If speeders can't heed our warnings, they'll have to learn the hard way," the chief said. He said the radar equipment will be used daily until speeding has been abated.

NLRB Cites 2 Ohio Firms

MARION, Ohio (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today handed down a cease and desist order to Abbott & Co., makers of electrical wiring systems.

The NLRB ordered the company to stop interrogating employes concerning their union activities, sympathies, membership and affiliation.

The board made Abbott & Co. re-hire six employes who had been fired because of a misunderstanding with the company. The six employes also are to be given the money they lost in pay since Jan. 25, 1960.

The cease and desist order said the company should not interfere or try to stop anyone from joining a union.

The NLRB handed down a similar decision today against the Burke Golf Equipment Corp. of Newark, Ohio, in the case of the Burke firm and the Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO.

The Newark firm was ordered to cease and desist from:

Discouraging membership in any labor union through discrimination in employment practices; questioning employes about membership in or sympathies for a union; or in any other manner interfering with, restraining or coercing employes in the right of self-organization as applied to a union.

The board ordered the Burke Corp. to offer immediate and full reinstatement to two women employes, dismissed through what the NLRB termed discrimination.

Mackall Visits Northwestern . . .

It's either Northwestern or Michigan for Bob Mackall, East Liverpool's All-Ohio quarterback.

That's what he said Thursday as he prepared to leave for Evanston, Ill., where he will visit the Northwestern campus this weekend.

On May 7, Bob will be off to Ann Arbor to get a good look at the University of Michigan.

The speedster, who drove opponents crazy with his dashes last fall, has had many offers from colleges all over the nation, but has narrowed them down to these two.

Mackall, a three sports star, set a new school record in the 100-yard dash on Wednesday.

While Mackall was a little surprised at his time of 10 seconds flat, his coach Bob Hedmond, only a few days earlier, predicted that his star sprinter would hit 10 seconds or go under the mark before the season was over.

Hedmond said "Bob will need a perfect day with a good hard track." That day was Wednesday and Mackall responded with a new school record.

The 10 seconds also equals the Columbiana County record which has stood since 1919.

Pitching For Cleveland–Hawkins . . .

WYNN HAWKINS, the New Waterford pitching ace, will get his first official taste of the big leagues this afternoon. Cleveland manager Joe Gordon has picked Hawkins to start against the Kansas City Athletics in the Missouri City.

The former Baldwin-Wallace basketball star earned the starting assignment with two impressive performances against the Yankees and White Sox.

We know fans in the Tri-State area wish Hawkins all the luck in the world today as he officially starts his Major League career.

WE WONDER what Frank Lane was thinking when Rocky Colavito stroked the three-run homer Wednesday. Of course Lane had his day Tuesday when Colavito was swinging at thin air.

There couldn't have been any more pressure in a steam kettle than what was on Colavito Tuesday, but he came through in championship form the next day.

Road Leads To Bowling Green . . .

SINCE Bob Gibson, who coached the 1955 undefeated team at ELHS, went to Bowling Green several Potter athletes have followed.

Former Potter stars are taking part in four different sports at Bowling Green.

Closest to Gibson is Jim Potts, who is being groomed for the quarterback job next season. Potts has some big shoes to fill since the Falcons went undefeated last season. Bowling Green has launched spring football practice.

Dave Hornick, who won his letter last year as a sophomore is pitching for the Falcon nine again this season.

The big righthander only pitched 13 innings in 1959 and didn't have any record, but Coach Dick Young is counting on Dave as a starter this season.

In basketball, Bobby Dawson shouldn't have any trouble moving into a starting berth next season.

Dawson was the No. 1 replacement this past campaign.

Jim Hoppel made quite a name in wrestling at Bowling Green. The two-time Mid-American champ went undefeated during the regular season again this year. He is a junior.

Pirates Flex Hitting Muscles In 11-5 Victory

Rap 3 HR's Against Phils

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

No National League club hit fewer home runs (112) than did the Pittsburgh Pirates last year, but now the Bucs have boomed nine in their first eight games, tops for the new season.

They rapped three while tagging 15 hits for an 11-5 job on the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday night. Hal Smith hit his second of the year, both three-run shots, and Bob Skinner made his third good for a pair of runs.

Fact is, the only solo shot among the Pirates' nine was delivered by winning reliever Fred Green Thursday night.

The only other National League game scheduled was a pitchers' duel, with the Milwaukee Braves, held to just three singles, beating Cincinnati 2-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Carl Willey.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox gained a tie with idle Detroit for first place by beating Kansas City 6-5 in 11 innings. The New York Yankees beat Boston 4-0, and Washington defeated Baltimore 6-5.

Smith and Skinner broke Thursday night's game open against the Phils. After Pittsburgh had scored three off starter Curt Simmons and Humberto Robinson, and the Phils had tied it against rookie Jim Umbricht, Smith broke the deadlock in the fourth against Robinson, the loser.

Skinner then got an inside-the-park homer in a four-run fifth when his drive took a bad bounce over Bobby Del Greco's head in center field. Green, who needed saving relief from Roy Face in the seventh for his second major league victory, belted his first homer in the majors off Hank Mason in the sixth.

Young lefty Jim O'Toole (1-1) blanked the Braves on one hit until the seventh. Then Red Schoendienst, leading the league with a .455 average (10-for-22) in his comeback, got a hit off O'Toole's glove, went to second on a walk and scored on Hank Aaron's single. Mel Roach made it a two-run inning with a sacrifice fly.

Matthews Choice In Fight Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rival managers predicted their boys would win by a knockout but oddsmakers counted Len Matthews an 8-5 favorite over Doug Vaillant for their lightweight bout tonight.

The scheduled 10-rounder at Miami Beach Auditorium will be nationally televised (NBC) starting at 10 (EST).

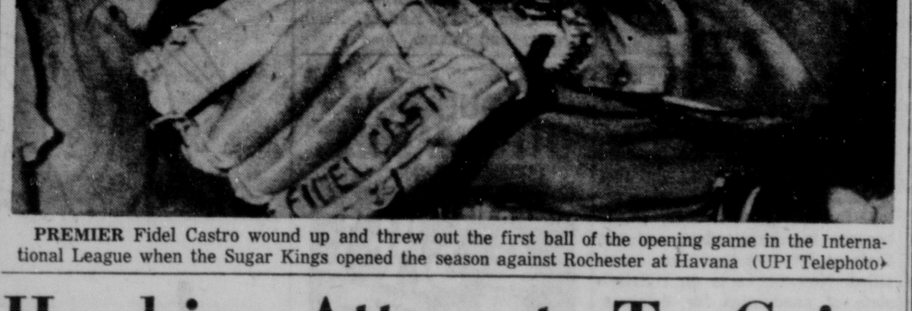

Neither Matthews, 20, of Philadelphia nor Vaillant, 22, of Santiago, Cuba, has fought as many as 30 times.

Vaillant, never knocked out, lost one fight in 23. His 20 wins include 12 knockouts plus a decision over Chico Morales for the Cuban lightweight title.

Matthews has won 24 of his 28 fights, has knocked out 14 foes and lost by kayo once — to Carlos Ortiz.

Hawkins Attempts To Gain First Victory For Cleveland

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today pinned their hopes of breaking into the win column on young Wynn Hawkins after losing the first two games of the season to the Detroit Tigers in Cleveland.

The rookie right-hander, 24, who has never appeared in a major league game, will oppose veteran Ray Herbert in the Kansas City Athletics' home opener, which launches a three-game series.

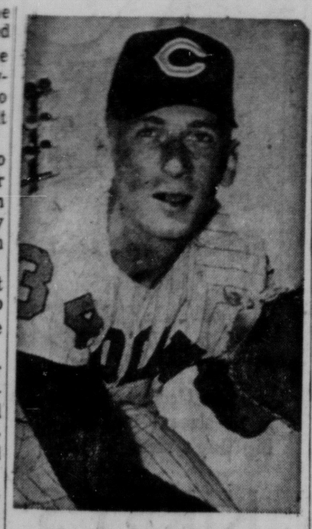

Kansas City also seeks its first win, having lost its first two games to the American League champion Chicago White Sox.

Hawkins, former basketball star at Baldwin-Wallace College, earned today's assignment by several fine performances in spring exhibition games. He had a 14-9 record at Mobile last season.

Manager Joe Gordon termed today's contest "a big ball game."

"We'll find that other starting pitcher we're looking for if the Hawk wins—or even if he just does a good job."

The Indians pitching staff was reduced to 12 Thursday when southpaw Jack Harshman, in Lakeside Hospital at Cleveland with a ruptured spinal disc, was put on the disabled list for at least 30 days.

Gordon said that for the time being Jim Perry will be dropped from starting status and will be in the bullpen throughout the Kansas City series and possibly in Detroit and Chicago next week.

"Maybe it'll shake him up," the manager said. "When he relieves he goes out there and fires, but when he starts he tries to get cute and mix 'em up. He didn't use his fast ball enough against the Tigers."

Jim Grant, Bob Grim and Barry Latman also will be in the bullpen crew at Kansas City.

"This may be an experimental series," Gordon said. "We may have to determine our starters by the process of elimination. . . .

"Maybe (Gary) Bell, Perry, Grant and Hawkins can start. If Latman and Stigman would come through, then I could use Perry and Grant in relief. We'll just have to wait and see, I guess."

Colts Coach Bares Ill Feeling With Brown

BALTIMORE (AP)—Coach Weeb Eubank of the Baltimore Colts revealed Thursday night that when he first announced to Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland that he might take the job as coach of the Colts six years ago, Brown replied, "We will be enemies to death."

Eubank's disclosure was his first public acknowledgement of suspected ill feeling between him and his former boss, Brown. He was an assistant to Brown at Cleveland when he took over the head coaching job at Baltimore, where he has won two straight National Football League titles.

Beaver Local Southpaw Fans 16 Newell Batters

Southpaw Lloyd Zeigler fanned 16 Newell batters in pitching Beaver Local to a 7-2 victory over the Vikings Thursday on the Beaver Local diamond.

The senior star struck out the side in the first four innings and scattered four hits — all singles — throughout the contest.

Berhar walloped a home run with a teammate on board in the sixth inning when Beaver Local scored 4 runs to ice the contest.

Myer rapped three hits for the afternoon, including a triple and a pair of singles.

Beaver Local scored lone runs in the second, third and fourth frames.

Bell went all the way for Newell. The lefthander gave up 10 hits for the afternoon.

NFL Approves Game For Players' Pension

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League Players Assn. reports the league has approved a postseason game in Miami's Orange Bowl with 75 per cent of the gate going into the players' pension fund.

The tentative date of the contest is Jan. 8. It will match the second place teams in the Eastern and Western conferences.

At the opening session Thursday of its annual two-day meeting, the association discussed the extension of its pension plan to players on league rosters during the 1959 season.

Milwaukee Manager Charlie Dressen worked for the Dodgers three times — once as a manager and twice as a coach.

Volleyball Tournament Set Tonight

Seven teams will participate in the Y.M.C.A's annual High School Girls Volleyball Tourney tonight on the "Y" floor.

The tourney will get underway at 5 p. m. and will continue until a complete round-robin of play has been conducted. All matches are on a time basis, with the winner being the team having the largest cumulative score after playing all teams in the tournament.

Teams entered are East Liverpool Blues, Whites and Potterettes, Chester Purple and Gold, Newell Green and White, Beaver Local Reds and the Beaver Local White's.

The three-year rotating trophy will be up for competition and will go to the winners in the tourney. Should the Potterettes win it will be retained permanently by East Liverpool as they already have won the title two years in a row.

The former Baldwin-Wallace basketball star earned the starting assignment with two impressive performances against the Yankees and White Sox.

We know fans in the Tri-State area wish Hawkins all the luck in the world today as he officially starts his Major League career.

WE WONDER what Frank Lane was thinking when Rocky Colavito stroked the three-run homer Wednesday. Of course Lane had his day Tuesday when Colavito was swinging at thin air.

There couldn't have been any more pressure in a steam kettle than what was on Colavito Tuesday, but he came through in championship form the next day.

Road Leads To Bowling Green . . .

SINCE Bob Gibson, who coached the 1955 undefeated team at ELHS, went to Bowling Green several Potter athletes have followed.

Former Potter stars are taking part in four different sports at Bowling Green.

Closest to Gibson is Jim Potts, who is being groomed for the quarterback job next season. Potts has some big shoes to fill since the Falcons went undefeated last season. Bowling Green has launched spring football practice.

Dave Hornick, who won his letter last year as a sophomore is pitching for the Falcon nine again this season.

The big righthander only pitched 13 innings in 1959 and didn't have any record, but Coach Dick Young is counting on Dave as a starter this season.

In basketball, Bobby Dawson shouldn't have any trouble moving into a starting berth next season.

Dawson was the No. 1 replacement this past campaign.

Jim Hoppel made quite a name in wrestling at Bowling Green. The two-time Mid-American champ went undefeated during the regular season again this year. He is a junior.

Hawkins Attempts To Gain First Victory For Cleveland

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today pinned their hopes of breaking into the win column on young Wynn Hawkins after losing the first two games of the season to the Detroit Tigers in Cleveland.

The rookie right-hander, 24, who has never appeared in a major league game, will oppose veteran Ray Herbert in the Kansas City Athletics' home opener, which launches a three-game series.

Kansas City also seeks its first win, having lost its first two games to the American League champion Chicago White Sox.

Hawkins, former basketball star at Baldwin-Wallace College, earned today's assignment by several fine performances in spring exhibition games. He had a 14-9 record at Mobile last season.

"We'll find that other starting pitcher we're looking for if the Hawk wins—or even if he just does a good job."

The Indians pitching staff was reduced to 12 Thursday when southpaw Jack Harshman, in Lakeside Hospital at Cleveland with a ruptured spinal disc, was put on the disabled list for at least 30 days.

Gordon said that for the time being Jim Perry will be dropped from starting status and will be in the bullpen throughout the Kansas City series and possibly in Detroit and Chicago next week.

"Maybe it'll shake him up," the manager said. "When he relieves he goes out there and fires, but when he starts he tries to get cute and mix 'em up. He didn't use his fast ball enough against the Tigers."

Jim Grant, Bob Grim and Barry Latman also will be in the bullpen crew at Kansas City.

"This may be an experimental series," Gordon said. "We may have to determine our starters by the process of elimination. . . .

"Maybe (Gary) Bell, Perry, Grant and Hawkins can start. If Latman and Stigman would come through, then I could use Perry and Grant in relief. We'll just have to wait and see, I guess."

Rap 3 HR's Against Phils

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

No National League club hit fewer home runs (112) than did the Pittsburgh Pirates last year, but now the Bucs have boomed nine in their first eight games, tops for the new season.

They rapped three while tagging 15 hits for an 11-5 job on the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday night. Hal Smith hit his second of the year, both three-run shots, and Bob Skinner made his third good for a pair of runs.

Fact is, the only solo shot among the Pirates' nine was delivered by winning reliever Fred Green Thursday night.

The only other National League game scheduled was a pitchers' duel, with the Milwaukee Braves, held to just three singles, beating Cincinnati 2-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Carl Willey.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox gained a tie with idle Detroit for first place by beating Kansas City 6-5 in 11 innings. The New York Yankees beat Boston 4-0, and Washington defeated Baltimore 6-5.

Smith and Skinner broke Thursday night's game open against the Phils. After Pittsburgh had scored three off starter Curt Simmons and Humberto Robinson, and the Phils had tied it against rookie Jim Umbricht, Smith broke the deadlock in the fourth against Robinson, the loser.

Skinner then got an inside-the-park homer in a four-run fifth when his drive took a bad bounce over Bobby Del Greco's head in center field. Green, who needed saving relief from Roy Face in the seventh for his second major league victory, belted his first homer in the majors off Hank Mason in the sixth.

Young lefty Jim O'Toole (1-1) blanked the Braves on one hit until the seventh. Then Red Schoendienst, leading the league with a .455 average (10-for-22) in his comeback, got a hit off O'Toole's glove, went to second on a walk and scored on Hank Aaron's single. Mel Roach made it a two-run inning with a sacrifice fly.

Matthews Choice In Fight Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rival managers predicted their boys would win by a knockout but oddsmakers counted Len Matthews an 8-5 favorite over Doug Vaillant for their lightweight bout tonight.

The scheduled 10-rounder at Miami Beach Auditorium will be nationally televised (NBC) starting at 10 (EST).

Neither Matthews, 20, of Philadelphia nor Vaillant, 22, of Santiago, Cuba, has fought as many as 30 times.

Vaillant, never knocked out, lost one fight in 23. His 20 wins include 12 knockouts plus a decision over Chico Morales for the Cuban lightweight title.

Matthews has won 24 of his 28 fights, has knocked out 14 foes and lost by kayo once — to Carlos Ortiz.

Colts Coach Bares Ill Feeling With Brown

BALTIMORE (AP)—Coach Weeb Eubank of the Baltimore Colts revealed Thursday night that when he first announced to Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland that he might take the job as coach of the Colts six years ago, Brown replied, "We will be enemies to death."

Eubank's disclosure was his first public acknowledgement of suspected ill feeling between him and his former boss, Brown. He was an assistant to Brown at Cleveland when he took over the head coaching job at Baltimore, where he has won two straight National Football League titles.

Beaver Local Southpaw Fans 16 Newell Batters

Southpaw Lloyd Zeigler fanned 16 Newell batters in pitching Beaver Local to a 7-2 victory over the Vikings Thursday on the Beaver Local diamond.

The senior star struck out the side in the first four innings and scattered four hits — all singles — throughout the contest.

Berhar walloped a home run with a teammate on board in the sixth inning when Beaver Local scored 4 runs to ice the contest.

Myer rapped three hits for the afternoon, including a triple and a pair of singles.

Beaver Local scored lone runs in the second, third and fourth frames.

Bell went all the way for Newell. The lefthander gave up 10 hits for the afternoon.

NFL Approves Game For Players' Pension

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League Players Assn. reports the league has approved a postseason game in Miami's Orange Bowl with 75 per cent of the gate going into the players' pension fund.

The tentative date of the contest is Jan. 8. It will match the second place teams in the Eastern and Western conferences.

At the opening session Thursday of its annual two-day meeting, the association discussed the extension of its pension plan to players on league rosters during the 1959 season.

Volleyball Tournament Set Tonight

Seven teams will participate in the Y.M.C.A's annual High School Girls Volleyball Tourney tonight on the "Y" floor.

The tourney will get underway at 5 p. m. and will continue until a complete round-robin of play has been conducted. All matches are on a time basis, with the winner being the team having the largest cumulative score after playing all teams in the tournament.

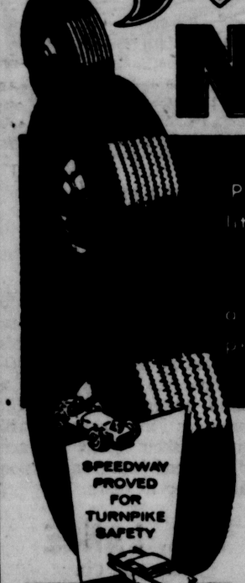

Teams entered are East Liverpool Blues, Whites and Potterettes, Chester Purple and Gold, Newell Green and White, Beaver Local White's, Beaver Local Reds and the Beaver Local White's.

The three-year rotating trophy will be up for competition and will go to the winners in the tourney. Should the Potterettes win it will be retained permanently by East Liverpool as they already have won the title two years in a row.

Chisox In Familiar Role Of Winning One-Run Decisions

Nip A's, 6-5, In 11 Innings; Yankees Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We've got more power," said Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox. "So now we're sluggin' 'em to death—by one run."

The White Sox won their first American League pennant in 40 years with 94 victories last season, and better than a third (35) of them were by one run. Winter deals for Minnie Minoso and Gene Freese and a spring swap for Roy Sievers, were supposed to provide more power and make things easier this year.

So now the White Sox have played two and won two — and both have been put away by one-run margins, and in the last inning.

They beat Kansas City a second time Thursday, winning 6-5 on Ted Kluszewski's single in the 11th after winning reliever Gerry Staley had blanked the A's on one hit for five innings. That hoisted the White Sox into a first-place tie with idle Detroit.

The New York Yankees backed a four-hit shutout spun by rookie John Gabler and Ryne Duren with successive fourth-inning homers by Bill Skowron and Gil McDougald for a 4-0 victory at Boston. Rookie Dan Dobbek's three-run, two-out homer in the ninth gave Washington a 6-5 victory at Baltimore Thursday night in the only other AL game scheduled.

In the National League the Milwaukee Braves beat Cincinnati 2-0 on Carl Willey's four-hitter, and the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped Philadelphia 11-5 with three home runs in the only games scheduled.

Skowron's home run, his first, came with two on against loser Bill Monbouquette. McDougald's cleared the left field wall at Fenway Park two pitches later. Gabler, 29, had worked no more than four innings in one stretch this spring and so gave way to Duren after allowing only three hits over seven innings.

Dobbek, a good bet to give the Senators the AL's rookie of the year for the third straight season, came on as a pinch runner in the seventh and teed off on losing-Oriole reliever Jack Fisher (1-1) in the ninth after a pair of walks.

New Pro Cage League Shows Cleveland Entry

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A new professional basketball league, keyed by Abe Saperstein and featuring such innovations as a player assignment pool rather than a draft, will be in operation for the 1960-61 season.

Saperstein, owner of the Harlem Globetrotters and part owner of the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn., was named acting president of the new American Basketball League Thursday.

Franchises went to Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Kansas City, Washington, D.C., and Cleveland.

Saperstein said he will be connected with the San Francisco club, adding that he is undecided what he will do with his stock in the Warriors.

The little basketball impressario quickly spiked any speculation that Wilt Chamberlain will play in the new league. After a record-breaking rookie year for the Warrios, Chamberlain quit the club at the end of the NBA season last month. He has signed to join the Globetrotters' European tour in Paris this summer.

Saperstein said the new league's players will come from a pool of college seniors.

Saperstein said a league constitution, formation of a board of directors and other matters will be taken up at the next meeting within four weeks. Site of the meeting hasn't been decided.

Olympic Prospects Set To Vie In OSU Relays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some of Uncle Sam's hottest Olympic prospects will put their talents on display here Saturday as Ohio State University presents its 18th relays.

More than 600 cinder stars from 26 colleges, universities and athletic clubs will vie in the 22 track and 6 field events under the watchful eye of Buckeye coach Larry Snyder who will head the Olympic teaching corps.

Snyder said today:

"We're getting ready for the Rome games, and six of our events will be run at metric distances. In the field you'll find a flock of boys who will win places on the American squad — and also some who will represent other countries in the Olympics."

Glenn Davis, former Ohio Stater who won the 400-meter hurdles in the 1956 Olympics in a record 50.1 seconds, will appear in his specialty. He'll also go in the 400-meter run in which he holds the world mark of 49.2.

Other hot-shots in the 400-yard run are Willie Atterbury of Michigan State, world record holder at 600 meters; Dave Mills of Purdue, Mal Barnwell of Pittsburgh, Roger Gum of Kentucky, and John Telford of the Detroit Track Club.

Feast Or Famine Is Theme For Cincinnati

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What is this feast or famine business with the Cincinnati Reds?

In four of their seven games thus far, three of them victories, they have scored a total of 35 runs or an average of just under 9 a contest. But in all of the other three games they have been shut out.

Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson figured to be the Reds' big run producers. But in the first seven games Pinson has had only 4 hits in 27 times at bat for a puny .148 average and has driven in only one run.

Robinson is in almost as bad shape. He has 6 hits in 28 at-bats for a .214 pace and has just four RBI.

He walked Eddie Mathews, and Hank Aaron got the only solid blow the Braves had all day—a single to left that scored Schoendienst. Joe Adcock then was walked intentionally but Mel Roach's sacrifice fly tallied Mathews.

Two of those walks came in the ninth after Pinson fanned. But Lee Walls struck out, and after a wild pitch advanced both runners, Ed Bailey hit a soft fly to the second baseman.

Bookies Charged For Decrease In Wheeling Betting

Arnold Palmer, who led golf's money winners in 1958, with $42,607, has a head start again. In the first three months of 1960 he had won $25,300.

Chisox In Familiar Role Of Winning One-Run Decisions

Nip A's, 6-5, In 11 Innings; Yankees Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We've got more power," said Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox. "So now we're sluggin' 'em to death—by one run."

The White Sox won their first American League pennant in 40 years with 94 victories last season, and better than a third (35) of them were by one run. Winter deals for Minnie Minoso and Gene Freese and a spring swap for Roy Sievers, were supposed to provide more power and make things easier this year.

So now the White Sox have played two and won two — and both have been put away by one-run margins, and in the last inning.

They beat Kansas City a second time Thursday, winning 6-5 on Ted Kluszewski's single in the 11th after winning reliever Gerry Staley had blanked the A's on one hit for five innings. That hoisted the White Sox into a first-place tie with idle Detroit.

The New York Yankees backed a four-hit shutout spun by rookie John Gabler and Ryne Duren with successive fourth-inning homers by Bill Skowron and Gil McDougald for a 4-0 victory at Boston. Rookie Dan Dobbek's three-run, two-out homer in the ninth gave Washington a 6-5 victory at Baltimore Thursday night in the only other AL game scheduled.

In the National League the Milwaukee Braves beat Cincinnati 2-0 on Carl Willey's four-hitter, and the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped Philadelphia 11-5 with three home runs in the only games scheduled.

Skowron's home run, his first, came with two on against loser Bill Monbouquette. McDougald's cleared the left field wall at Fenway Park two pitches later. Gabler, 29, had worked no more than four innings in one stretch this spring and so gave way to Duren after allowing only three hits over seven innings.

Dobbek, a good bet to give the Senators the AL's rookie of the year for the third straight season, came on as a pinch runner in the seventh and teed off on losing-Oriole reliever Jack Fisher (1-1) in the ninth after a pair of walks.

New Pro Cage League Shows Cleveland Entry

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A new professional basketball league, keyed by Abe Saperstein and featuring such innovations as a player assignment pool rather than a draft, will be in operation for the 1960-61 season.

Saperstein, owner of the Harlem Globetrotters and part owner of the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn., was named acting president of the new American Basketball League Thursday.

Franchises went to Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Kansas City, Washington, D.C., and Cleveland.

Saperstein said he will be connected with the San Francisco club, adding that he is undecided what he will do with his stock in the Warriors.

The little basketball impressario quickly spiked any speculation that Wilt Chamberlain will play in the new league. After a record-breaking rookie year for the Warrios, Chamberlain quit the club at the end of the NBA season last month. He has signed to join the Globetrotters' European tour in Paris this summer.

Saperstein said the new league's players will come from a pool of college seniors.

Saperstein said a league constitution, formation of a board of directors and other matters will be taken up at the next meeting within four weeks. Site of the meeting hasn't been decided.

Four other applications — from Portland, Ore., Pittsburgh, Vancouver, and Honolulu—will be considered for membership next year.

Olympic Prospects Set To Vie In OSU Relays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some of Uncle Sam's hottest Olympic prospects will put their talents on display here Saturday as Ohio State University presents its 18th relays.

More than 600 cinder stars from 26 colleges, universities and athletic clubs will vie in the 22 track and 6 field events under the watchful eye of Buckeye coach Larry Snyder who will head the Olympic teaching corps.

Snyder said today:

"We're getting ready for the Rome games, and six of our events will be run at metric distances. In the field you'll find a flock of boys who will win places on the American squad — and also some who will represent other countries in the Olympics."

Glenn Davis, former Ohio Stater who won the 400-meter hurdles in the 1956 Olympics in a record 50.1 seconds, will appear in his specialty. He'll also go in the 400-meter run in which he holds the world mark of 49.2.

Other hot-shots in the 400-yard run are Willie Atterbury of Michigan State, world record holder at 600 meters; Dave Mills of Purdue, Mal Barnwell of Pittsburgh, Roger Gum of Kentucky, and John Telford of the Detroit Track Club.

In addition to the usual track-field events the program includes a 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Feast Or Famine Is Theme For Cincinnati

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What is this feast or famine business with the Cincinnati Reds?

In four of their seven games thus far, three of them victories, they have scored a total of 35 runs or an average of just under 9 a contest. But in all of the other three games they have been shut out.

Those three shutouts are half as many as the Reds suffered all last season.

The latest was a 2-0 setback by Milwaukee Thursday which nullified another excellent pitching job by "sophomore" Jim O'Toole.

A look at the second and fourth spots in the batting order reveals one reason the Reds are running into those whitewash jobs.

Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson figured to be the Reds' big run producers. But in the first seven games Pinson has had only 4 hits in 27 times at bat for a puny .148 average and has driven in only one run.

Robinson is in almost as bad shape. He has 6 hits in 28 at-bats for a .214 pace and has just four RBI.

They're both still looking for their first home run of the season.

O'Toole deserved a better fate than defeat in Thursday's windup at Milwaukee. For six innings he allowed the Braves only one scratch single.

He walked Eddie Mathews, and Hank Aaron got the only solid blow the Braves had all day—a single to left that scored Schoendienst. Joe Adcock then was walked intentionally but Mel Roach's sacrifice fly tallied Mathews.

Meanwhile, Carl Willey was giving the Braves some fancy pitching himself. He allowed only four hits, struck out 10 and walked three.

Two of those walks came in the ninth after Pinson fanned. But Lee Walls struck out, and after a wild pitch advanced both runners, Ed Bailey hit a soft fly to the second baseman.

Bookies Charged For Decrease In Wheeling Betting

"The betting action is pretty good in town," said Frank Stepek, business manager of Wheeling Downs.

The management reportedly wants the state government to help rid Wheeling and Eastern Ohio communities of bookies who get calls from the track here.

Betting has been down for the spring meeting that began last Saturday. Tuesday's betting at the track was $66,009, which compared to last year's daily average of $151,421.

Track officials, city officials and representatives of the State Racing Commission attended the meeting today.

Arnold Palmer, who led golf's money winners in 1958, with $42,607, has a head start again. In the first three months of 1960 he had won $25,300.

Fighters Sign Contract For June 20 Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—After nine months of quarrels and investigations, claims and counterclaims, champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson have signed for a heavyweight title rematch.

Today, Johansson is back in Geneva, Switzerland, and ex-champion Patterson at his Newton, Conn., training camp. The next time they meet will be at the weigh-in for their second match at New York's Polo Grounds June 20.

Simultaneously with the signing was announcement that the high bid of TelePrompter, Inc., of $700,000 for the closed-circuit television, radio and motion picture rights had been accepted by Feature Sports, Inc., promoter of the fight. The fight will be carried on closed-circuit TV only.

The ticket scale will range from $10 to $100, and Jack Fugazy, official of the new promotional organization, beamingly predicted a million-dollar gate.

3 Fire 2-Under Par 69s To Lead In Women's Golf

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Fay Crocker, the winning master of concentration; Wiffi Smith, piano-playing redhead, and Joe Ann Prentice, who again is knocking at the door to the big money, led the $10,000 Dallas Women's Open into its second round today.

They shot 2-under-par 69s Thursday to top a field of 40 pros and amateurs that started the fifth annual tournament.

Miss Crocker, the veteran from Montevideo, Uruguay, who thinks concentration is the best part of her game and is the leading money winner of the year to prove it, hit 17 greens and was putting like a machine.

Miss Prentice, from Birmingham, Ala., also was putting well, pushing in one for 30 feet and one for 20. She has yet to win a first place in five years of campaigning.

Buffalo's Bisons Still Have Power, Pitching Punch

By The Associated Press

However, the Bisons are still in a four-way tie for first place with Montreal, Rochester and Toronto. Montreal edged Columbus 4-3; Rochester beat Little World Series champion Havana for the second consecutive night in the 10th inning, this time 4-1; and Toronto nipped Richmond 1-0.

Rookie shortstop Domingo Carrasquel hit a three-run homer in a four-run fourth inning to sink Columbus and pitcher Dick Lines. Carrasquel is the brother of former major leaguer Chico Carrasquel.

Lorain Man Rolls Perfect '300' In ABC Tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The name of Louis Facsko doesn't appear anywhere in the official schedule of the 1960 American Bowling Congress tournament, but it will be in all of the ABC record books of the future.

Fighters Sign Contract For June 20 Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—After nine months of quarrels and investigations, claims and counterclaims, champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson have signed for a heavyweight title rematch.

Today, Johansson is back in Geneva, Switzerland, and ex-champion Patterson at his Newton, Conn., training camp. The next time they meet will be at the weigh-in for their second match at New York's Polo Grounds June 20.

Simultaneously with the signing was announcement that the high bid of TelePrompter, Inc., of $700,000 for the closed-circuit television, radio and motion picture rights had been accepted by Feature Sports, Inc., promoter of the fight. The fight will be carried on closed-circuit TV only.

The ticket scale will range from $10 to $100, and Jack Fugazy, official of the new promotional organization, beamingly predicted a million-dollar gate.

3 Fire 2-Under Par 69s To Lead In Women's Golf

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Fay Crocker, the winning master of concentration; Wiffi Smith, piano-playing redhead, and Joe Ann Prentice, who again is knocking at the door to the big money, led the $10,000 Dallas Women's Open into its second round today.

They shot 2-under-par 69s Thursday to top a field of 40 pros and amateurs that started the fifth annual tournament.

Miss Smith, from St. Clair, Mich., carries a piano around in her car on which to practice classical music. She is after her second Dallas Open title.

Miss Crocker, the veteran from Montevideo, Uruguay, who thinks concentration is the best part of her game and is the leading money winner of the year to prove it, hit 17 greens and was putting like a machine.

Miss Prentice, from Birmingham, Ala., also was putting well, pushing in one for 30 feet and one for 20. She has yet to win a first place in five years of campaigning.

Buffalo's Bisons Still Have Power, Pitching Punch

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Bisons still have their old 1-2 punch of power and pitching as they are off toward another International League pennant.

The Bisons won their second in as many starts Thursday night, 5-3 over Miami on Art Mahaffey's fine pitching and clutch hitting by Fred Hopke, Don Landrum and Joe Lonnett.

However, the Bisons are still in a four-way tie for first place with Montreal, Rochester and Toronto. Montreal edged Columbus 4-3; Rochester beat Little World Series champion Havana for the second consecutive night in the 10th inning, this time 4-1; and Toronto nipped Richmond 1-0.

Rookie shortstop Domingo Carrasquel hit a three-run homer in a four-run fourth inning to sink Columbus and pitcher Dick Lines. Carrasquel is the brother of former major leaguer Chico Carrasquel.

"We are astounded that the judge refused to sign the county financial report as it is the same form he signed last year and is the form prescribed by the Ohio Bureau of Inspections.

"We also feel the judge associates with his fellow elected officials every day at the Courthouse, and they would be happy to explain anything he could not comprehend in the report.

"We Democrats of the county policy committee feel that the taxpayers of the county are entitled to see the financial statement for last year, and are also entitled to see how it compares with the cost of county offices for the past 20 years when the taxpayers were not given the opportunity to see it printed under the regime of our opposition administration.

"The Democratic administration lived up to its pledge to publish this report last year, and will do its part to see the taxpayers are able to see a financial report again this year.

"We also want to congratulate the Democratic officials for operating the county government with less money in 1959 than their predecessors did in 1958."

Certification by the judge is required for the report to be published in a newspaper with county funds.

County officials could attempt to make changes in the report—although the Democrats say there is no provision for such changes in the form — or could perhaps seek an opinion from state authorities. The report could also be published independently.

Census

viding the city into new wards falls upon the safety-service director, the law says.

But the law says specifically that Council does not have the right to appoint members for the new wards. The seats are not filled until the next municipal election. In East Liverpool's case, that would mean election of the new members—along with other municipal officials—in 1961 for terms beginning in 1962.

After 25,000, the law provides for no further increase in the number of councilmen until the population hits 40,000. Then one new member is added.

Mayor Goodballet has been promised by Howard Borden of Steubenville, district supervisor of the census, that the city's newest population total will be reported as soon as the figures are complete for Columbiana County.

meantime the legislature would revise the requirements.

A statement was released today by the county Democratic policy committee, headed by Don Gosney of Columbiana, party chairman:

"We are astounded that the judge refused to sign the county financial report as it is the same form he signed last year and is the form prescribed by the Ohio Bureau of Inspections.

"We also feel the judge associates with his fellow elected officials every day at the Courthouse, and they would be happy to explain anything he could not comprehend in the report.

"Of course, we realize that this is an election year.

"We Democrats of the county policy committee feel that the taxpayers of the county are entitled to see the financial statement for last year, and are also entitled to see how it compares with the cost of county offices for the past 20 years when the taxpayers were not given the opportunity to see it printed under the regime of our opposition administration.

"The Democratic administration lived up to its pledge to publish this report last year, and will do its part to see the taxpayers are able to see a financial report again this year.

"We also want to congratulate the Democratic officials for operating the county government with less money in 1959 than their predecessors did in 1958."

Certification by the judge is required for the report to be published in a newspaper with county funds.

County officials could attempt to make changes in the report—although the Democrats say there is no provision for such changes in the form — or could perhaps seek an opinion from state authorities. The report could also be published independently.

viding the city into new wards falls upon the safety-service director, the law says.

But the law says specifically that Council does not have the right to appoint members for the new wards. The seats are not filled until the next municipal election. In East Liverpool's case, that would mean election of the new members—along with other municipal officials—in 1961 for terms beginning in 1962.

After 25,000, the law provides for no further increase in the number of councilmen until the population hits 40,000. Then one new member is added.

Mayor Goodballet has been promised by Howard Borden of Steubenville, district supervisor of the census, that the city's newest population total will be reported as soon as the figures are complete for Columbiana County.

Signatures of some 850 Chester residents have been obtained on petitions pledging support for a Chester swimming pool, Don Chaney, chairman of the pool committee, announced today.

Chaney said the pool committee, which counted signatures Thursday night, hopes to get over 1,000 names. He said two petitions still are out and volunteer workers hope to visit some homes where residents were away when canvassers called.

The pool committee hopes to sponsor construction of a $70,000 pool at the City Park. A representative of a pool concern from Pittsburgh as expected to visit the city sometime today.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Important Projects Need PTA Help

Yesterday I deplored the materialism which pervades many local PTAs, expressed in the growing trend toward buying things for the schools, and often things of relatively low educational value. I quoted from the opposite standards set forth in the current manual of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. If the local PTA must buy something, let it buy abundant supplementary reading materials for each classroom and added books for the school library. After doing so it might conclude that it could do more genuine service by creating, through its meetings and program a community sentiment strong enough to provide adequate public funds, and that it could induce the Board of Education to vote these funds for needed supplementary reading materials.

By Garry Meyer.

ALSO, THROUGH its program, the local PTA could be a boon to the school by encouraging more children to read books borrowed from the school library, public library or bookmobile. It could arouse more parents to build, by example and guidance, a desire in children to read more.

At its meetings the local PTA could exert an effective effort to induce parents to strive harder to make their children better citizens and to cultivate in them better habits of mental work and study at home.

The PTA could keep alive, at its meetings, the need for better salaries for teachers and better backing by the home. It could boost teachers' morale and lift them to a higher level of the community's respect and appreciation.

This the local PTA could do if it never ceased to make contagious among its members a willingness to tax themselves for better schools.

IF THESE imperishables were set foremost at every local PTA meeting, the national effect would be to encourage state legislatures and Congress to place school construction above that of highways and expensive public buildings. Such a program would guarantee to all children opportunities for the best possible education.

In lieu of buying mere things for schools, even things of high educational value which should be bought with public funds, the local PTA should spend more of its money to send additional delegates to the state and national PTA conventions.

Then let us hope that, at these conventions, there will be an increasing emphasis on the ideals and standards stated in official PTA publications. Many local PTAs are doing a worthwhile service now, without money, in arousing their members to prevail on broadcasting companies to provide better TV programs. To do so they are using the National Parent - Teacher magazine and its helpful section, "Time Out for Television".

My bulletin, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Jury Resumes Deliberations In Tax Case

The jurors—eight women, including one Negro, and four men —were locked up in a hotel overnight after they reported to Judge Frederick vanPelt Bryan that they had been unable to reach a verdict.

The judge said at 10:15 p.m. that the jurors, who received the case at 1 p.m., reported in a note that they had been unable to reach a decision "and since 3 p.m. have been deadlocked."

Powell, 51-year-old Negro Democratic congressman, is charged with falsifying a 1951 income tax return he filed for his wife, jazz pianist Hazel Scott. Miss Scott, who is estranged from Powell and has made her home in Paris for years, is not a defendant in the tax case.

Powell, if convicted, could get up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

During the trial that began March 8, the judge dismissed two of the three counts in the indictment on the ground the goverment had failed to substantiate them. The dismissed counts dealt with a joint return filed by Powell and his wife for 1952.

The boy, Wayne Kupetz, was struck in the head Thursday at a playground, police reported. He underwent brain surgery after his father took him to the hospital.

Step Toward Healing Breaches

Merger Of Three Lutheran Denominations Set Today

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Lutheranism, organizationally the most divided branch of American Christianity, today takes a major step toward healing some of the breaches.

Three denominations unite into one.

In colorful ceremonies, 1,000 representatives of the American Lutheran Church, the Evangelical Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church will seal their long-negotiated merger.

And it paces the field in a developing pattern of Lutheran unification that promises to bring 93 per cent of the eight million members into three large bodies within the next three years.

It has been in the planning stage for 12 years, with thousands of man-hours spent in working out bylaws, a constitution, doctrinal statement and other merger documents.

Cautioned On Facilities

Election Boards Are Told To Avert Slow Vote, Count

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today expressed concern about the size of ballots for the May 3 primary elections.

He urged election boards in all 88 counties to provide facilities for voters to prevent slow balloting and counting.

"It is always regrettable," Brown said, "to see voters having to stand in line for long periods of time or become discouraged and leave without casting their ballot."

Because of the large number of candidates this year, Brown split primary ballots into two parts. One carries the names of candidates for delegate to national conventions; the other the names of those seeking nomination for state, district and county offices.

But the bedsheet-sized ballots in Cuyahoga County's Democratic primary remain a problem, Brown observed. Ballots in other counties are unusually large this year, he added.

"Asking voters to make an intelligent choice among as high as 258 names is a travesty on Ohio's otherwise usually accepted model election laws," he said.

"The cost of printing such large and complicated ballots is getting out of hand. But worse than that," he added, "no one can be expected to acquaint himself or herself with so many candidates or be able, if time permitted, to vote such a ballot as will be presented in some of the polling places May 3."

The secretary of state asserted that this year's ballot situation "focuses the spotlight very definitely again on the need for legislation which will permit Cuyahoga County to nominate and elect state representatives by district."

Senator In Nebraska Would Pick Rockefeller

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—State Sen. Terry Carpenter says that if Nebraskans send him to the Republican National Convention he plans to nominate Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for president.

"Only the governor can stop me," Carpenter said Thursday night.

Carpenter said it irks him to think that Vice President Richard M. Nixon might not have opposition at Chicago in July.

"And I don't think Nixon can win in November," he added.

Carpenter created an uproar at San Francisco in 1956 when he became angered because Nixon had no opposition for vice president.

He attempted to nominate a mythical "Joe Smith" as an opponent. But he was cut off abruptly by the chair.

Police Quiz Suspects In Attack-Slaying

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Police questioned suspects today in an effort to solve the rape-slaying of a dark-haired beauty queen whose partially-clothed body was found floating in a canal Thursday.

The body of Miss Irene Garza, 25, missing for six days, was pulled from the canal about a mile from her home and less than a dozen blocks from the busy downtown section of this Lower Rio Grande Valley city.

Authorities estimated she had been in the water since Saturday night, shortly after leaving home in the family car to attend church. The car was found near the church Sunday.

To prevent blisters when working with garden tools, sand the handle with a light sandpaper, then rub with linseed oil.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Important Projects Need PTA Help

Yesterday I deplored the materialism which pervades many local PTAs, expressed in the growing trend toward buying things for the schools, and often things of relatively low educational value. I quoted from the opposite standards set forth in the current manual of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. If the local PTA must buy something, let it buy abundant supplementary reading materials for each classroom and added books for the school library. After doing so it might conclude that it could do more genuine service by creating, through its meetings and program a community sentiment strong enough to provide adequate public funds, and that it could induce the Board of Education to vote these funds for needed supplementary reading materials.

By Garry Meyer.

ALSO, THROUGH its program, the local PTA could be a boon to the school by encouraging more children to read books borrowed from the school library, public library or bookmobile. It could arouse more parents to build, by example and guidance, a desire in children to read more.

At its meetings the local PTA could exert an effective effort to induce parents to strive harder to make their children better citizens and to cultivate in them better habits of mental work and study at home.

The PTA could keep alive, at its meetings, the need for better salaries for teachers and better backing by the home. It could boost teachers' morale and lift them to a higher level of the community's respect and appreciation.

This the local PTA could do if it never ceased to make contagious among its members a willingness to tax themselves for better schools.

IF THESE imperishables were set foremost at every local PTA meeting, the national effect would be to encourage state legislatures and Congress to place school construction above that of highways and expensive public buildings. Such a program would guarantee to all children opportunities for the best possible education.

In lieu of buying mere things for schools, even things of high educational value which should be bought with public funds, the local PTA should spend more of its money to send additional delegates to the state and national PTA conventions.

Then let us hope that, at these conventions, there will be an increasing emphasis on the ideals and standards stated in official PTA publications. Many local PTAs are doing a worthwhile service now, without money, in arousing their members to prevail on broadcasting companies to provide better TV programs. To do so they are using the National Parent - Teacher magazine and its helpful section, "Time Out for Television".

My bulletin, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Step Toward Healing Breaches

Merger Of Three Lutheran Denominations Set Today

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Lutheranism, organizationally the most divided branch of American Christianity, today takes a major step toward healing some of the breaches.

Three denominations unite into one.

In colorful ceremonies, 1,000 representatives of the American Lutheran Church, the Evangelical Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church will seal their long-negotiated merger.

It is the first Lutheran consolidation in the 20th Century to combine bodies of different national backgrounds.

And it paces the field in a developing pattern of Lutheran unification that promises to bring 95 per cent of the eight million members into three large bodies within the next three years.

It has been in the planning stage for 12 years, with thousands of man-hours spent in working out bylaws, a constitution, doctrinal statement and other merger documents.

Dr. Henry F. Schuh, of Columbus, Ohio, president of the old ALC, termed the union "a giant step toward the ultimate goal, one Lutheran Church in America."

Cautioned On Facilities

Election Boards Are Told To Avert Slow Vote, Count

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today expressed concern about the size of ballots for the May 3 primary elections.

He urged election boards in all 88 counties to provide facilities for voters to prevent slow balloting and counting.

"It is always regrettable," Brown said, "to see voters having to stand in line for long periods of time or become discouraged and leave without casting their ballot."

Because of the large number of candidates this year, Brown split primary ballots into two parts. One carries the names of candidates for delegate to national conventions; the other the names of those seeking nomination for state, district and county offices.

But the bedsheet-sized ballots in Cuyahoga County's Democratic primary remain a problem, Brown observed. Ballots in other counties are unusually large this year, he added.

"Asking voters to make an intelligent choice among as high as 258 names is a travesty on Ohio's otherwise usually accepted model election laws," he said.

If the Cuyahoga ballot hadn't been split, Brown said, "some voters would have been voting a ballot of billboard poster size."

"The cost of printing such large and complicated ballots is getting out of hand. But worse than that," he added, "no one can be expected to acquaint himself or herself with so many candidates or be able, if time permitted, to vote such a ballot as will be presented in some of the polling places May 3."

The secretary of state asserted that this year's ballot situation "focuses the spotlight very definitely again on the need for legislation which will permit Cuyahoga County to nominate and elect state representatives by district."

Senator In Nebraska Would Pick Rockefeller

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—State Sen. Terry Carpenter says that if Nebraskans send him to the Republican National Convention he plans to nominate Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for president.

"Only the governor can stop me," Carpenter said Thursday night.

Carpenter said it irks him to think that Vice President Richard M. Nixon might not have opposition at Chicago in July.

"And I don't think Nixon can win in November," he added.

Carpenter created an uproar at San Francisco in 1956 when he became angered because Nixon had no opposition for vice president.

He attempted to nominate a mythical "Joe Smith" as an opponent. But he was cut off abruptly by the chair.

Police Quiz Suspects In Attack-Slaying

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Police questioned suspects today in an effort to solve the rape-slaying of a dark-haired beauty queen whose partially-clothed body was found floating in a canal Thursday.

The body of Miss Irene Garza, 25, missing for six days, was pulled from the canal about a mile from her home and less than a dozen blocks from the busy downtown section of this Lower Rio Grande Valley city.

The autopsy report showed the teacher died from blows on the head before she was tossed into the small canal.

Authorities estimated she had been in the water since Saturday night, shortly after leaving home in the family car to attend church. The car was found near the church Sunday.

To prevent blisters when working with garden tools, sand the handle with a light sandpaper, then rub with linseed oil.

Jury Resumes Deliberations In Tax Case

The jurors—eight women, including one Negro, and four men—were locked up in a hotel overnight after they reported to Judge Frederick vanPelt Bryan that they had been unable to reach a verdict.

The judge said at 10:15 p.m. that the jurors, who received the case at 1 p.m., reported in a note that they had been unable to reach a decision "and since 3 p.m. have been deadlocked."

Powell, 51-year-old Negro Democratic congressman, is charged with falsifying a 1951 income tax return he filed for his wife, jazz pianist Hazel Scott. Miss Scott, who is estranged from Powell and has made her home in Paris for years, is not a defendant in the tax case.

Powell, if convicted, could get up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

During the trial that began March 8, the judge dismissed two of the three counts in the indictment on the ground the goverment had failed to substantiate them. The dismissed counts dealt with a joint return filed by Powell and his wife for 1952.

Boy Hit By Baseball In Critical Condition

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 8-year-old boy who was hit by a baseball was unconscious and in critical condition early today in suburban Community Hospital.

The boy, Wayne Kupetz, was struck in the head Thursday at a playground, police reported. He underwent brain surgery after his father took him to the hospital.

Injuries Are Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Randell Myers, 3, died Thursday of injuries suffered April 1 when he was struck by a car in front of his West Side home.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: If I'm going a little crazy I wish you'd tell me. I wouldn't dare mention this to anyone else.

I don't know when all this started but whenver I leave the house it has become a habit to test every one of the gas jets even though I haven't used the stove during the day. I must also try the doorknob from the outside four times — once for each member of the family.

When I enter my mother-in-law's home (every Sunday) I have the habit of stepping into her house with my right foot first, to be sure that everything will be all right on that visit. (I've had my troubles with her.)

Please tell me what all this means and if you think I'm losing my mind. Should I seek outside help?—DORIS.

Dear Doris: Almost everyone has a few secret (and perhaps odd) mannerisms. So long as they don't interfere with your daily living, there's nothing to become alarmed about.

Try to conquer these compulsions one at a time, as a matter of personal victory. Next Sunday, when you go to your mother-in-laws, lead with the left foot and then make a special effort to be friendly. If everything comes off all right you have a good start in beating that superstition.

Telling someone about these little habits is the first step toward conquering them. It makes them less awesome. I invite all readers to jot down their secret compulsions (no matter how odd) and send them to me as the first step in getting rid of them.

House Privileges

Dear Ann: I'm a mother who must work because the child support check from my former husband is inadequate.

My housekeeper is a lovely, capable person but she's made herself so completely at home in my house that it's irritating.

She has a large number of relatives and friends who make my address their lunch headquarters.

My coffee canister is always empty. I can't keep a piece of sandwich meat or cheese in the place. This woman's niece comes twice a week to shampoo her hair (with my shampoo). The utility and water bills are double what they used to be — not to mention the grocery bill.

I don't wish to appear petty but I'd like to know what to do. — FAYE.

Dear Faye: This will never get better, it will only get worse. If you tell her to cut it out she'll be resentful and an icy barrier will be set up between you.

One Little Word

Dear Ann: My husband and I think you are sensible. Will you please answer us with a yes or a no. We are aware of all the reasons on both sides, so you needn't go into detail. If you say "yes" we'll know why. If you say "no" we'll understand that, too.

Our 16-year-old daughter has been invited by the parents of her steady boy friend to join them on a three-week trip this summer. They plan to see the country in a trailer.

Their son is an only child, as is our daughter. It would be just the four of them. Is it "Yes" or "No"? —WAITING TO HEAR.

Dear Waiting: It's "no"—and thank you for making this day so easy!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kiwanis To Sponsor Travel Lecture Films

A series of four world travel movies with accompanying lectures will be sponsored by the Kiwanis Club in October and November, William Porter, president, announced today.

The full-length color films will be related in person by the explorer-travelers who photographed the scenes, Porter said.

The programs will start Oct. 29 and continue for the following three Saturday nights. Russell Porter will present "Russia," Bettina Shaw "Grand Tour of Europe," Robert Davis "Canary Islands" and Bathie Stuart "Polynesia—Garden of Eden."

Proceeds will be used for the club's underprivileged children's projects. Series tickets will be available along with student tickets at reduced rates.

460 Trailers Licensed

Classroom Teachers Elect For Next Term

HANOVERTON — Donald Brunner of United Local School was elected president of the Classroom Teachers Association for 1960-61 at a meeting Wednesday evening. He succeeds Robert Penrod.

Other officers are Mrs. Ethel Mountz, vice president; Mrs. Esther Cope, secretary, and Mrs. Laura Stewart, treasurer.

Brunner and Mrs. Mountz will represent United on the Executive Board of the Columbiana County Education Association.

Card Party Set By Elkton PTO

Plans for a public card party April 29 at the Elkton School were completed at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization Wednesday night. Baskets of groceries will be prizes.

Mrs. Marjorie Dixon and Mrs. Virginia Pastore were named a nominating committee for election of officers at the next meeting May 11.

About 47 attended the coverdish dinner and meeting at which Dr. J. S. Jones of Lisbon screened movies of a trip to Mexico. Delmar Harrold, president, was in charge.

The attendance banner was won by the first grade. Urban Petros, elementary supervisor of Beaver Local schools, suggested parents obtain a reading book to aid their children during the summer vacation.

Cemetery Custodian At Salineville Quits

SALINEVILLE — Lloyd Pletcher quit as custodian at the Woodland Cemetery at a meeting of the cemetery trustees and Council Wednesday night.

Councilman Harold Merriner submitted an application for the vacant post and the trustees were to meet last night to consider it. Merriner was formerly employed at a Salem firm which discontinued operations.

Easter 'Amnesty' Causes Deluge Of Mail For Judge

Mail is continuing to flood into Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff's office from all over the United States — letters written by persons who read newspaper wire service stories of his "amnesty ruling" that freed minor offenders from City Jail on Good Friday for the Easter weekend.

The judge received a letter today from a Medford (Ore.) woman — a former East Liverpool resident — who wrote that the widespread attention proves that "good deeds still shine forth in the world."

He has received similar letters from friends and fellow East Liverpool residents in Phoenix, Ariz., and Miami, Fla., and from many points in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania. In most cases, the writers enclosed Easter "amnesty" clippings from their local newspapers.

The story also was carried on at least two of the major radio networks.

Among the cities from which the judge has received newspaper clippings and letters are: Stockton, Calif., Logansport, Ind., New York City, Orange and Newark, N. Y., Philadelphia, Columbus, Cleveland, Akron, Canton and Pittsburgh.

Mothers Club Given Polio Fund Citation

A certificate of appreciation to the Calcutta Mothers Club for helping in the recent Polio Fund drive was presented at a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the school by Richard Brian, county co-chairman.

Lee Kirkland, Beaver Local High School principal, spoke on the requirements for high school students. Plans were made for the current Cancer Fund drive today through Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Cairns, president, was in charge. About 40 attended. The next meeting will be May 11 when officers will be elected.

Tax Duplicate Cleared For Billing By June 20

LISBON — Kenneth Bell, county auditor, has completed his audit of the real estate tax duplicate for the first half of 1959, collected in the first half of 1960, and has returned the duplicate to the treasurer for billing for second-half collection of 1959 taxes, which is due by law by June 20.

Prior collections have never started before July 1 for over 10 years, Bell said.

Service Station Group Meets With 25 Present

Twenty-five attended the first organizational meeting of service station operators and managers of the Tri-State area Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Vincent Gerace of East Liverpool is serving as temporary chairman and Don Chaney of Chester as secretary.

Another meeting will be held May 4 at 8 p. m. to elect officers and a Board of Directors. The group is being organized to discuss and work on common problems.

The area was broke down into districts and each of those attending last night was asked to contact other dealers in their area to attend future meetings.

She has a large number of relatives and friends who make my address their lunch headquarters.

My coffee canister is always empty. I can't keep a piece of sandwich meat or cheese in the place. This woman's niece comes twice a week to shampoo her hair (with my shampoo). The utility and water bills are double what they used to be — not to mention the grocery bill.

I don't wish to appear petty but I'd like to know what to do. — FAYE.

Dear Faye: This will never get better, it will only get worse. If you tell her to cut it out she'll be resentful and an icy barrier will be set up between you.

One Little Word

Dear Ann: My husband and I think you are sensible. Will you please answer us with a yes or a no. We are aware of all the reasons on both sides, so you needn't go into detail. If you say "yes" we'll know why. If you say "no" we'll understand that, too.

Our 16-year-old daughter has been invited by the parents of her steady boy friend to join them on a three-week trip this summer. They plan to see the country in a trailer.

Their son is an only child, as is our daughter. It would be just the four of them. Is it "Yes" or "No"? —WAITING TO HEAR.

Dear Waiting: It's "no"—and thank you for making this day so easy!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cemetery Custodian At Salineville Quits

Councilman Harold Merriner submitted an application for the vacant post and the trustees were to meet last night to consider it. Merriner was formerly employed at a Salem firm which discontinued operations.

Easter 'Amnesty' Causes Deluge Of Mail For Judge

Mail is continuing to flood into Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff's office from all over the United States — letters written by persons who read newspaper wire service stories of his "amnesty ruling" that freed minor offenders from City Jail on Good Friday for the Easter weekend.

The judge received a letter today from a Medford (Ore.) woman — a former East Liverpool resident — who wrote that the widespread attention proves that "good deeds still shine forth in the world."

He has received similar letters from friends and fellow East Liverpool residents in Phoenix, Ariz., and Miami, Fla., and from many points in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania. In most cases, the writers enclosed Easter "amnesty" clippings from their local newspapers.

The story also was carried on at least two of the major radio networks.

Among the cities from which the judge has received newspaper clippings and letters are: Stockton, Calif., Logansport, Ind., New York City, Orange and Newark, N. Y., Philadelphia, Columbus, Cleveland, Akron, Canton and Pittsburgh.

Service Station Group Meets With 25 Present

Another meeting will be held May 4 at 8 p. m. to elect officers and a Board of Directors. The group is being organized to discuss and work on common problems.

The area was broke down into districts and each of those attending last night was asked to contact other dealers in their area to attend future meetings.

Mrs. Robert Cairns, president, was in charge. About 40 attended. The next meeting will be May 11 when officers will be elected.

Kiwanis To Sponsor Travel Lecture Films

A series of four world travel movies with accompanying lectures will be sponsored by the Kiwanis Club in October and November, William Porter, president, announced today.

The full-length color films will be related in person by the explorer-travelers who photographed the scenes, Porter said.

The programs will start Oct. 29 and continue for the following three Saturday nights. Russell Porter will present "Russia," Bettina Shaw "Grand Tour of Europe," Robert Davis "Canary Islands" and Bathie Stuart "Polynesia—Garden of Eden."

Proceeds will be used for the club's underprivileged children's projects. Series tickets will be available along with student tickets at reduced rates.
